M'CLELLAN ON THIRD BALLOT

Anti-Parkerites Believe Factionists Can Be Rallied to Gotham Mayor.

JUDGE CANNOT WIN

Guffey, Brennen, Gorman and Others So Decided at Washington Conference.

PALM'S SIGNIFICANT TALK

By WALTER J. CHRISTY.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, July 1.—McClellan on the third ballot is one of the quiet tips being handed out here, but it is a long time until the Democratic convention meets to nominate a candidate for president and the program may be switched. At present the Parker boom is the whole thing in St. Louis, but the opponents of the judge say that a wonderful change will be shown in sentiment by Sunday night.

August Belmont sent his agents here today and already the cry is going up that Wall street money is to be dumped in to secure the nomination of Parker. The idea of Wall street controlling the presidential nominee is revolting to the western delegates. It is one of the strongest cards that the anti-Parker crowd has to play. They point out that it will not do for the party to start into a campaign with the people believing that some scandal is possibly connected with the work of the convention.

A story is being told tonight about the Washington conference of Monday, participated in by Col. J. M. Guffey and William J. Brennen of Pittsburgh, Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland, Senator Smith of New Jersey, John R. McLean of Ohio and National Chairman J. K. Jones of Arkansas. It is handed out as gospel truth that after these king makers had made a careful analysis of the situation they decided that if Parker is nominated he cannot be elected. It is also said to have been the unanimous opinion that the judge cannot carry New York. Unfortunately the dispensers of the news stopped there and did not say what man was decided upon as the logical candidate.

Cleveland's Name a Screen.

The impression prevails here that Cleveland is simply being used as a screen by the anti-Parkerites. It is claimed that the men who are booming the Princeton man are not really for him and have no intention of attempting to effect his nomination, but hope to get votes away from Parker and to compromise candidates by threatening to stampede the convention to the ex-president. The man who twice held the presidency has many enemies and the scheme of holding him up as a bogie is expected to be productive of a thinning out of the Parker ranks.

In the south Parker was used to block the Hearst boom. Many delegates who come here with instructions to support the New Yorker will not be enthusiastic for the Wall street candidate. The opponents of the Parker crowd expect to win over many of these votes after the first or second ballot. It is also being pointed out that if Bryan and his friends do not bolt the nomination of Parker they will at least be lukewarm in their support this fall. The same is said of Tammany, but the anti-Parker men seem to think that if McClellan is nominated ex-Senator D. B. Hill, August Belmont and the rest of the Wall street crowd that is back of Parker will cheerfully turn in for the New York mayor.

Held Up as Bolters.

Belmont and Hill are held up to the western Bryan men as party bolters, and that it would be dangerous to trust them with the party management now.

Everyone wants to know what Col. Guffey intends to do with his 68 delegates from Pennsylvania. The only camp in which they are not claimed is that captained by Hearst. He long ago discovered that the Pittsburgher was determined that he should not have a vote

PARKER TALE OF BRYAN'S INTENT

Judge's Friends Say Most Committeemen Support Proposed Bolt.

IS DENIED BY WALSH

Permanent Chairmanship of the Convention May Be Offered to Ex-Gov. Pattison.

WILL TAKE GUFFEY'S ADVICE

By CHESTER D. POTTER.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 1.—The probability of a bolt by W. J. Bryan and his friends is the feature of discussion today. Back of the prediction that Bryan will bolt are the Parker people. There is a strong probability that Mr. Bryan will not be satisfied with the work of this convention. Even his friends admit this. They say that if this man, or that man, is nominated for president, Mr. Bryan will not stand for the action of the convention. They say that he will not abide by the decision unless the platform suits him.

Judge Parker's representatives here, and they are legion, are taking advantage of every possible contingency. They assert with confidence that Mr. Bryan is sure to bolt the action of the convention, predicting the statement upon the certainty, as they see it, of Parker's nomination. The story as it is being disseminated by Parker's friends is to the effect that Mr. Bryan in the credentials committee and on the floor of the convention will file a protest against the delegations from New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Illinois, alleging that the delegates from these states are not the representatives of the real Democracy. Such a protest would of course be futile. Mr. Bryan knows this and so do the Parker people.

Basis of Intended Protest.

But the Parker people say that Mr. Bryan must have something upon which to base his action, and that this will be used as provocation for his intended action. The story further is to the effect that a majority of the members of the national committee are cognizant of and secretly supporting Bryan's contemplated coup.

"So far as the national committee is concerned," said Secretary C. A. Walsh, the committeeman from Iowa, "there is no truth in this story. I have heard the gossip relative to the possibility of a bolt upon the part of Mr. Bryan, but I can say that neither myself nor any member of the committee has any connection with such a proposition. Whatever the action of the convention may be, I will stand by it. Personally I do not believe that Mr. Bryan would fail to support the nominee whoever he may be. But you cannot measure Mr. Bryan as other men are measured. His ideas are so high, his sense of duty and regard for what he deems right so lofty that he is liable to answer any call of conscience. If the convention were to nominate a man not considered by Mr. Bryan a representative Democrat, if it were to adopt a platform which in his opinion did not express the real Democratic spirit in its declaration of policy, I am unable to say what course Mr. Bryan would take. My own opinion is, however, that the work of the convention will be such as to meet not only the approbation of Mr. Bryan and his friends, but of the Democratic party as a whole."

Williams Writing a Platform.

Congressman John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, who has been in seclusion at the world's fair for a couple of days, is writing a platform which will be expressive of the Parker idea. It is said that Mr. Williams has received Judge Parker's advice as to the construction of this declaration of principles and that when the document is completed it will meet all conservative demands. Mr. Williams is to have a very prominent part in the program, that is if the Parker people control. He is quite certain to be temporary chairman of the convention, although that will not be definitely settled until the meeting of the national

A Long Awaited Event.

CLEVELAND AND GORMAN MEN FIGHTING PARKER

Not Allied, but Both Working to Scatter Vote, Hoping to Secure Favorite's Nomination.

Party Control for East.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, July 1.—Two distinct lines of operation developed today in the preliminary skirmishing of the Democratic national convention. One is a scheme to rush the nomination of Judge Parker on the first or second ballot and the other is to scatter the vote, prevent an early nomination with a view of naming Cleveland or Gorman. The friends of Gorman and Cleveland are working to hold the convention for several ballots in the hope that their candidate would be named. The Gorman men are not parties to the Cleveland movement, nor are the Cleveland advocates climbing with Gorman's friends. There is no alliance, but it is to the interests of both that the Parker strength be disintegrated as soon as possible.

There are a few men here—men of the old Cleveland guard—who are watching every point, and who are in close communication with Cleveland's supporters. They are using the race issue on the southern men and with all delegates they use the argument that Cleveland is the only man that the Democrats can elect. The man who is credited with being the head and front and manager of the Cleveland movement, Thomas F. Ryan, will arrive tomorrow. Mr. Ryan is a delegate from Virginia and has been identified with the Atlantic coast line road. He has also been close to Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall.

Gorman's position is stated to be that he will not enter into any combination to prevent the nomination of Parker unless it means his own selection. Around Gorman is gathered the Maryland, West Virginia and District of Columbia delegations and some from other states, with a bare possibility of securing New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

It seems now that the control of party affairs will pass to the east, no matter who may be the candidate, or what may be the platform. Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska will give way under the changed conditions to New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey and New England.

Strong assurances are given that William J. Bryan will not bolt. It is expected that Mr. Bryan will offer vigorous dissent to the platform, and possibly to the candidate, but some Democrats say that after expressing his dissent, it is not the intention of the leaders to allow any great latitude to him, after his minority report has been rejected.

GUFFEY BOOMED BY JOHN LARKIN

Controller Thinks Colonel the Man Democratic Convention Should Name.

KEYSTONE DELEGATES FOR HIM

Col. James M. Guffey's boom for the Democratic presidential nomination was launched last night. It was floated without Col. Guffey's knowledge by City Controller Larkin, who thinks it would be good politics to make him the Democratic standard-bearer in the coming campaign.

Col. Guffey left Pittsburgh for St. Louis last night without knowing of the boom started by the controller, for nobody told him, it being feared that he would try to cut the boom away before it had started to do its work. Mr. Larkin is very much in earnest. He realizes that the Democrats are all at sea and knows of no one who would be more acceptable to the various factions than Guffey. When in Pittsburgh on Thursday Senator James K. Jones, the Democratic national chairman, said he did not know what William J. Bryan might do, if a man who bolted Bryan's nomination should be nominated. Mr. Larkin calls attention to the fact that Col. Guffey, a conservative business man who did not agree with Mr. Bryan's ideas, nevertheless supported him twice when Democrats all over the state and country fell away.

Larkin Likes the Idea.

"The very best suggestion I have had concerning the Democratic nomination for the presidency was made today by a Democrat," said Mr. Larkin, "who said to me: 'Why doesn't the Pennsylvania delegation to St. Louis end this turmoil by concentrating on Col. James M. Guffey, who, while not agreeing with Mr. Bryan, gave him in two presidential campaigns the loyal support he always gives to Democratic candidates?'

"It was a splendid suggestion," continued Mr. Larkin. "Why should not the Democratic national convention agree upon Col. Guffey as the Democracy's choice for president? Col. Guffey is not only an able leader of men, but a conservative one, of the broadest business views, acquired through the devotion of a lifetime to a business second to none in the country. He stands well with business men; he stands well with workingmen. He need place himself under no obligation to anybody, for he can finance his own campaign, if that were necessary.

"The national leaders of the party would rally around Col. Guffey, as they would about no other man named, and the country could rest assured there would be no world's war, in which this country would take part, during his incumbency of the highest office in the gift of the people."

All Might Rally to Guffey.

In further discussing the prospects of his candidate, Mr. Larkin said he had no doubt that Bryan, William R. Hearst, the supporters of Judge Parker and the adherents of every other possible candidate mentioned would rally to Col. Guffey's support, if he should be the nominee. He did not consider the objection that Pennsylvania is a Republican state fatal to Col. Guffey's chances for the nomination or election, for he thought the general supposition that a candidate ought to be able to carry his own state was not a fetich to be feared. The Democracy would rally so unitedly around Col. Guffey, Mr. Larkin thought, that he would carry any state that any other Democrat, even a resident, could carry.

"Col. Guffey won't like that," said National Delegate William J. Brennen, who

LAST SILVER DOLLAR HAS BEEN COINED

No More Will Be Turned by Mints Unless Free Coinage Wins.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—Barring the election of a congress favorable to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, the mints of the United States have coined their last silver dollar. Collectors need not hurry to procure a specimen of this coin, however, for in the Philadelphia mint alone there are something like 105,000,000 shining new dollars in the vaults.

No more silver dollars are to be coined because the mints have exhausted the silver bullion purchased for that purpose. The existing laws do not provide for the purchase of additional bullion, so the fate of the big silver coin rests on the return to power of the political party favoring a silver standard.

BRYAN BITTERLY SCORED BY NEBRASKA DEMOCRAT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OMAHA, July 1.—Dr. George L. Miller, for 25 years editor of the Omaha Herald, and for years leader of the Nebraska Democracy, in the Omaha Bee tonight makes a bitter attack on William Jennings Bryan. Dr. Miller says that eight years ago Mr. Bryan was a briefless lawyer in Lincoln, the law being the only legitimate business in which he ever was engaged, and that now he has an income of $100,000 a year and is rated at a "round two millions of dollars." Dr. Miller says that people are now asking where Mr. Bryan got this immense fortune, and that he is much mistaken "if the day is not near when there will be a loud demand for a straight answer to it." Concluding, Dr. Miller says:

"Mr. Bryan is going to St. Louis to make a formal surrender of the Kansas City platform and a final appeal. His abject surrender in advance of all for which he ever contended in that platform is both cowardly and pitiful. His appeal will be, and his plot and plan with Carter H. Harrison of Chicago is to get some fatal clause into the platform of the sane and safe Democracy to defeat the Democratic party. Its success would mean early political death to Mr. Bryan."

Administrators of Carnegie Project.

THE HAGUE, July 1.—Administrators of the palace of arbitration, to be erected at the expense of Andrew Carnegie, have been appointed. They include former Minister Jonkherr Van Karnebeek, senior Dutch delegate to the permanent court of arbitration, as president general; W. H. DeBeaufort, former minister of foreign affairs and president of the administrative council of the permanent court of arbitration, as secretary, and several members of the second chamber of the states general.

Mob Shoots Negro to Death.

CARTERSVILLE, GA., July 1.—John Jones, the negro assailant of Mrs. Banister, was lynched near the scene of his crime today. The negro's body was riddled with bullets, more than 500 shots being fired.

Greek Cabinet Minister Killed.

LONDON, July 1.—A dispatch from Athens says M. Stais, the minister of worship and instruction, has been killed in a duel by M. Hadji-Petros, a member of the chamber of deputies.

MOB RUNS TWO MILES AMID SHOTS

Hundreds Chase Fugitives for Hours in Face of Hail of Bullets.

ONE MAN WAS SHOT IN HEAD

After a chase of 12 miles, during which scores of shots were exchanged, Officer Peter McDonough of North Braddock captured three men alleged to be implicated in shooting Councilman Frederick Schuman's horse in North Braddock earlier in the evening.

The shooting was witnessed by a crowd of 100 men and boys, and the trio, turning upon the crowd, emptied their revolvers again and again as they ran off. One man, John Boles of Wolftown, sustained a scalp wound from one of the bullets, while many had their clothing punctured.

The three men are now in the North Braddock lockup under four charges made by Schuman and other charges of felonious shooting made by members of the posse. The men were first noticed in Wolftown, in North Braddock borough. One of them was heard to remark, "Watch me kill the horse," as he passed the residence of Schuman. A horse valued at $400 was grazing and the man fired at the animal. The shot missed and the three men, drawing revolvers, fired a fusillade of shots at the animal, killing it. The Schuman family telephoned to the North Braddock police headquarters and Officer Peter McDonough responded.

The crowd, none of whom, save Mc-Donough, was armed, started in pursuit of the men, who started running, while the mob started after them. The chase continued toward Elum creek, and the men, hard pressed, turned and opened fire. The crowd fell back, and again the men started off on a run, disappearing in the woods toward Turtle Creek. The chase continued to the Beulah cemetery, the men doubling on their tracks and firing at the posse whenever it came too close. From Beulah cemetery the chase led to Hannahtown, thence to the Greensburg pike, and then the men started toward Wilkinsburg. The mob, which had been distanced by Boles, who was mounted, and McDonough, was lost in the woods, but near Wickerat more men joined the party in the chase and kept after the fugitives. The men turned into the Greensburg pike toward Wilkinsburg, and about three miles from that borough were met by McDonough, who had again lost the crowd.

McDonough and another pedestrian drew revolvers on the trio, who showed fight. One of them drew a revolver, but as McDonough had the drop on him, threw away his weapon. The three men were taken to North Braddock and locked up.

The charges were made before Justice John G. Richards of North Braddock. When the men were searched three Colt revolvers were found on them and their pockets were full of cartridges.

Monks Fight for Their Monasteries.

NANTES, July 1.—Extensive establishments of the Premonstrant and the Capucine orders were closed today after violent resistance. The Premonstrant monks barricaded their doors and windows. A battalion of infantry and a detachment of dragoons assisted the police. Firemen finally deluged the monastery with water, forcing back the monks from the barricades. The occupants were taken out by means of ladders. Similar expedients were used to expel the Capucine monks.

ROBBER BAND RAIDED TOWN

ROBBERS DRIVEN TO FLIGHT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Lancaster, July 1.—A sensational report of a raid by three robbers upon the little town of Gordonville, 10 miles east of Lancaster, was received here tonight, but as telephone and telegraph wires are down it is impossible to get full particulars. However, it is certain that at least one man was killed and several wounded.

According to the information gained by the police before communication was interrupted the robbers entered the hotel of Elmer Lane and opened fire upon the proprietor, wounding him in the shoulder. They then went to the general store of A. H. Hershey, near by. Hershey and his clerk, Phares Buckwalter, resisted their entrance and the robbers again began shooting. Buckwalter was shot in the back but Hershey escaped injury.

By this time the village was aroused. A man arrived on the scene armed with an ax. He struck one of the robbers on the head with his weapon, inflicting what is believed to be a fatal wound. The injured robber is in custody. He said his name is Carson.

His two companions fled eastward along the Williamstown turnpike. About four miles from Gordonville they came to the toll-gate, kept by Samuel Ressler, an aged man. The old gatekeeper was standing outside. The robbers came toward him on a run. In jest, Ressler shouted to them: "Where's your team?" Without a word both men raised their revolvers and fired at Ressler. Three bullets struck him, one between the eyes, killing him instantly. The murderers continued their flight eastward with a posse in pursuit.

NAME OF ROOSEVELT BRINGS THEIR CHEERS

Minnesota Republicans Also Enthusiastically Indorse Gov. Van Sant's Course.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PAUL, July 1.—The Republicans tonight, after a two days' session, nominated the following by acclamation: For governor, Robert C. Dunn; lieutenant governor, Ray W. Jones; secretary of state, P. F. Hanson.

The platform commends the action of Gov. Van Sant in espousing the cause of the people against the railway merger and trusts. It indorses United States Senators Knute Nelson and Moses E. Clapp for re-election.

After reaffirming the national platform and commending the administrations of McKinley and Roosevelt, the platform has the following to say on national issues:

"We believe that the large corporations commonly called 'trusts' should be regulated by law, and supervised both in their organization and operation, that their tendencies may be checked and their evil practices prevented, and we insist that they shall be so regulated and controlled as to prevent monopoly and promote competition and in the fullest measure subserve and advance the public good.

"We believe in the doctrine of protection to American industries as set forth in the national Republican platform of 1904, and we believe in reciprocity as defined and advocated by William McKinley and James G. Blaine."

Mention of President Roosevelt's name brought tumultuous applause, which was duplicated when Gov. Van Sant's action in fighting the so-called railroad merger was indorsed.

CITIZENS NOT TO WAIT.

Their Leaders Hope to Capture the Republican Organization the Coming Fall.

The plan of the Citizens party to secure control of the Republican county organization became known in all its details yesterday. The same methods pursued by the leaders in the councilmanic campaign two years ago are to be practiced. The Citizens have such confidence in the efficacy of their tried methods that they will put them into practice. Patronage, promises and other things will be their stock in trade.

The plan agreed upon is to secure control of the Republican organization, remove Chairman Thomas J. Ford, alter the party rules to suit themselves, "finance" the coming campaign, thus obtaining the favor of the Republican candidates and becoming the real leaders of the Republican party, just as Thomas S. Bigelow captured the Citizens organization during and after the election in 1902.

Mayor Hays said yesterday:

"We are trying to get a list of the city and county committeemen, but are not planning to make a fight for control of the committee. We simply want to know the groundwork before we go ahead."

"To go ahead at what?" the mayor was asked; but he was stricken with sudden silence.

Wife Murderer Takes His Life.

POTTSVILLE, PA., July 1.—George Lynch, a young man who was convicted of murdering his wife two weeks ago, was found dead in his cell in the Schuylkill county prison tonight. He tore his bed quilt into strips and hanged himself from the window.

DALIN PASS EVACUATED

Japanese Leave Position Dearly Bought, and Russians Occupy It.

RUSSIANS TRAPPED

Alexieff Reports Maneuvers Made Near Port Arthur to Escape Giving Battle.

RUMOR OF AN ENGAGEMENT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Tokyo, July 2.—Vice Admiral Kamimura evidently trapped and attacked the Russian Vladivostok squadron off the islands of Tau, in the southern entrance to the Sea of Japan, last night. The result of the encounter is unknown.

Liao-Yang, June 30 (Delayed).—Gen. Kuropatkin, with reinforcements, personally moved toward Dalin pass, whereupon the pass was evacuated by the Japanese and reoccupied by the Russians.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 1.—Emperor Nicholas has received the following dispatch from Viceroy Alexieff, dated June 30:

"A report received today from the acting commander of the Port Arthur squadron (Rear Admiral Withoft), states that on the night of June 23, eight torpedo boats were dispatched to guard the roadstead, seven miles out to sea.

"The torpedo boats repulsed the enemy's torpedo boats, which had approached. During this action, Commander Ellisseieff, Lieut. Smirnoff and two blue jackets were wounded. All the torpedo boats returned towards morning.

"At 8 o'clock the Novik, Diana, Askold, Sevastopol, Poltava, Czarevitch, Pobieda, Peresviet, Retvizan, Bayan, and Pallada steamed out into the roadstead in line ahead and anchored. Two floating Japanese mines having been perceived in the roadstead, the squadron remained at anchor.

Mines Laid During Fight.

Meanwhile several small boats, which had been searching for mines, discovered and exploded 10 on the eastern side of the roadstead. An examination showed that the mines were probably laid during the night by two of the enemies torpedo boats, which had approached Port Arthur.

"At 2 p. m. the squadron, preceded by a flotilla of mine dredges, torpedo boats and the Novik, steamed in line ahead towards the open sea, having emerged from the roads without mishap. The squadron shaped its course southwards and the dredgers were sent back to Port Arthur, escorted by armed picket boats. Two Japanese vessels, with a detachment of torpedo boats, were keeping our squadron in sight all the while.

"Twenty miles from shore a Japanese squadron was sighted, steaming in divisions one ahead, which on drawing closer was found to be composed of one second-class and four first-class battleships, four armored first-class cruisers, seven second-class cruisers, five third-class cruisers, one scout boat, one steamer and 30 torpedo boats in two divisions.

"As they approached the Japanese were seen to be preparing to place a division of cruisers and torpedo boats between the shore and our squadron, in order that during the night they might force, by persistent torpedo attacks, some of our ships to break the formation and in the morning engage us with all their ships.

"Taking into consideration that the enemy's entire force was greatly superior to ours and in view of the large number of Japanese torpedo boats, I decided to return to Port Arthur in order to act according to circumstances, considering that this plan of action laid us open to less risk of loss.

Neither Wants Fight.

"At 7 p. m. our squadron started on its return to Port Arthur, a proceeding which the enemy did not attempt to prevent, nor did he attempt to approach.

"At 10 o'clock the squadron reached the roadstead, where it cast anchor. At the same time our recently warships successfully repulsed two Japanese torpedo attacks.

"Notwithstanding the bright moonlight, the enemy continued to make torpedo attacks on the roadstead until daybreak, but the attacks were always successfully repulsed.

"In the morning there were found along the coast near our warships 13 Whitehead torpedoes, which had been launched by the enemy at long range, the torpedo boats not being allowed to approach nearer than 12 cable lengths.

"The torpedo boats attacked in groups and at least two of them were sunk.

"In the morning the bodies of a Japanese officer and two sailors were washed upon the beach.

"The successful repulse of the torpedo boat attacks, in which several batteries took part, was facilitated by the searchlights on shore.

"In the morning all our vessels entered Port Arthur at high tide.

"The following dispatch has been received at the war office from Gen. Zilinsky, dated June 29:

Fighting at Port Arthur.

"The following reports have reached here (Liao-Yang) from Port Arthur: On June 24 the Japanese displayed great activity at all their outposts, and in the hope of reoccupying the mountains of War Dog Lane, which had been taken from them, they attacked, but again were repulsed and our troops now occupy the village of Belkohoon, northeast of Sino-Ping-Tao. The enemy maintained a heavy fire at long range on our left flank from their squadron, which lies in Talienwan bay, in full view of Port Arthur. It consists of a cruiser, two torpedo boat destroyers and seven merchant ships, which evidently brought cargoes into the bay.

"On the night of June 24-25 the Japanese torpedo boats reapproached the fortress, and at 4 a. m., June 25, the enemy began to cannonade from their vessels in Sino-Ping-Tao bay, directing their fire against the whole coast toward the north, from the bay to Mount Uitsolo, and then attacked in great force, firstly, Seight No. 191; secondly, height No. 126.

"The latter were attacked by a small detachment landed for this purpose. These two heights were held by our riflemen who, after driving off these attacks with heavy losses, retired, and, being pressed by the enemy, sought refuge on the heights of Lou-Ye

Tian. The enemy attacked this position in great force, outflanking at least a division, but all the assaults were repulsed.

Russian Riflemen Retire.

At 3:30 p. m. the Japanese appeared on the Fort Arthur road in great strength and attacked Kwin-shan (Quin-San-Shan). The riflemen who held the height, with two battalions, retired. The Japanese turned them from the rear, losing heavily in the manoeuver. Our torpedo boats, west of some assistance to us, advancing on Louis-Van-Tian and bombarding the coast occupied by the enemy.

Our losses were seven officers and about 200 soldiers killed or wounded. Our mines exploded at the proper time, blowing up at least 50 Japanese. Their losses were evidently considerable.

According to the latest advices, large columns of the enemy are marching from Daley toward the village of Suan-Tsai-tun and Khoaint mountain.

On June 27 there was a fusillade at the Japanese outposts, due to the Japanese establishing themselves on the summit of Louis-Van-Tian mountain. Our gunboats proceeded yesterday toward Louis-Van-Tian and bombarded the shore.

Yesterday morning the forts and batteries at Port Arthur opened fire on the Japanese torpedo boats.

The emperor has received the following dispatch from Gen. Kurepatkin, dated June 30:

"Torrential rains fell in the Ta-Tche-Kiao district June 28 and on the roads from Ta-Tche-Kiao to Sin-Yen-Tcheng, including our bivouacs. The Japanese are advancing slowly in different directions toward our east and south fronts.

"On the south the Japanese are advancing east and, with the object of effecting a junction with Kuroki's army.

Japanese Falling Back.

It has been ascertained by a reconnaissance in the direction of Dalin pass that the Japanese have retired some distance from the positions recently occupied by them. Their exceeding forces, consisting of several companies, retired after a short fusillade.

A report from the direction of Feng-Wang-Cheng June 30 announced that an energetic attack by Japanese forces had been discovered toward Wa-Fan-Kuen and the Lin-Ho-Shi pass.

The rains continue.

LONDON, July 1.—(9:08 p. m.)—Admiral Skrydloff, according to a dispatch from St. Petersburg to a news agency here, reports that the Vladivostok squadron has returned to Vladivostok undamaged.

CHEFOO, July 1.—(8:30 p. m.)—What should prove to be a decisive naval engagement was in progress at 1 o'clock this afternoon midway between Chefoo and Port Arthur.

The steamer Chefoo, which has arrived here, passed within 15 miles of the Japanese fleet, consisting of two battleships and five cruisers, all actively engaged. The Russian fleet was not seen, but the distance of the Japanese from land precludes the possibility of any attack on the land batteries. The captain of the Chefoo says he heard a terrific explosion, but was unable to discover whether a Japanese or a Russian ship was affected.

Moving Armies Like Chessmen.

LIAO-YANG, July 1.—Gen. Kuropatkin and Gen. Kuroki are moving their troops like men on a chess board. The Japanese are now 20 miles from Liao-Yang. The rains are impeding their movements. Detachments totalling 1,200 men have been derailed from Gen. Rennenkamp's force. sacks, to the defiles and hills, attacking Japanese and not allowing them any rest day or night. The Japanese artillery is said here to be commanded by an American. His tall form is frequently seen with the batteries.

Kuroki's army is extremely active east of the Russian positions. The Russian center is being rapidly pushed northward to a point where Kuropatkin established his base after the battle of Vafangow. So far as the Russians know, Kuroki is steadily pushing onward through all the mountain passes, even toward Mukden. Preparations are still being made to meet practically complete. The demonstrations made during the last few days against the Russian left flank threaten to completely change the position of the two armies.

Notwithstanding four days' rain, the troops are still being moved.

Some Red Cross trains with wounded passed northward June 30.

The newspaper correspondents have returned to Liao-Yang from the south. A press bureau has been established here.

PENNINGTON'S ALLEGED WIFE IS UNDER ARREST

Found by the St. Louis Detectives in the World's Fair City.

Mrs. May Howard, who was associated with E. J. Pennington, the airship promoter, under arrest in St. Louis and awaiting extradition to this state, was also arrested in that city yesterday. The woman was located by the St. Louis detectives and has agreed to waive all requisition proceedings and return to Pittsburgh. While in this city May Howard lived with Pennington as his wife and information has been made against her of conspiracy to defraud. Detective Miley will leave for St. Louis this morning to bring the man and woman back.

It was thought by the local detectives that May Howard was still in this city, she underwent an operation in the Passavant hospital here, and it was thought her condition was such that she would be unable to travel. Whether she left the city with her husband is not known, but it is believed by the detectives she did.

May Howard is a fine looking woman and the persons with whom she came in contact say she is exceedingly brilliant. Mrs. Hattie A. Geis has made information against Pennington and May Howard. She alleges they swindled her out of $285. It is expected the couple will arrive here Tuesday.

A special telegram from St. Louis to The Gazette, received last night, said:

"The woman purporting to be Pennington's wife went to the Four Courts and obtained permission to talk to her husband, but knowing that she was wanted by the police. After a very affectionate meeting and a conversation of half an hour, she left the jail and was arrested on the outside. She is a remarkably handsome woman and when she was taken to the detective's office she was very indignant. She finally confessed that she owed a hair dresser $15, but said that she could think of nothing else which the police of Pittsburgh could hold against her. According to the police she is well known and is wanted in jail under the name of Mrs. May Howard, alias Mrs. Pennington, alias Lamar. Later a woman known as Katherine Sumner, alias Catherine Sherman, was arrested in Sixth street by Detective Zeigler charged with being implicated in the Pennington affair. All of them agree to return to Pennsylvania without requisition papers. One other person is wanted on this charge, the nature of which the police do not know, and if this person is not arrested immediately those at present in custody will be sent east as soon as Pennsylvania officers arrive."

RAILROADS RESTRAINED.

Equity of Pennsy and B. & O. Car Service Charges Will Be Tested.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 1.—(Special.)—Judge William D. Wallace today granted an injunction restraining the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio railroads from selling the contents of 12 cars loaded by the Marquis Coal and Limestone Company of this city to secure payment of car service charges alleged to be due. The Marquis company claims the charges are excessive. The company loaded 12 Baltimore & Ohio cars for delivery to the Pennsylvania, but the Baltimore & Ohio refused them. Judge Wallace directs both railroad companies to deliver the goods at their destination, upon the payment of the regular freight rates. A hearing to determine the legality of the car service charges will be held next Monday.

DAMAGE IS DONE BY FIERCE STORM

Lightning Strikes Street Car, Injuring Aged Man and Causing Panic.

ACCIDENTS WERE REPORTED

The terrific thunderstorm accompanied by high winds, which passed over the city and district shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, resulted in serious injury to half a dozen persons and caused thousands of dollars loss. The heavy rains filled the sewers in some sections of the city to overflowing, and in the suburbs several landslides occurred which blocked street car traffic.

The most serious accident of the storm occurred at Butler and Fifty-eighth streets, when James Kilgallon, aged 65, of 3840 Grant boulevard, was struck by lightning while alighting from a Butler street car. This caused a general panic among the passengers, during which several were injured.

The car had just passed Fifty-fifth street when lightning running along the trolley wire burned out one of the controllers, shocking George Pitts, the motorman. The damage was repaired and the car started on its way out Butler street. At Fifty-eighth street both controllers blew out, setting fire to both ends of the car, and a moment later another bolt sent sparks flying from the metal parts of the car.

Broke Both His Legs.

Kilgallon, who is employed in the city water department and has charge of the gate of the water mains at the Sharpsburg bridge, was just getting off the car at the time, and the force of the lightning threw him to the ground, breaking his legs and burning him about the face and breast. A physician was summoned and he was taken to his home, where he lies in a critical condition.

So great was the rainfall in the vicinity of Butler and Fifty-seventh streets that traffic was suspended for over 30 minutes. The recent rains loosened much dirt and rocks on Morningside hill, and much of this was washed on the street yesterday afternoon. In many other places along Penn avenue and Butler street the sewers overflowed, covering the pavements.

During the height of the storm John Manning, an electrician employed by the Central District Telephone Company, was at work in a conduit near 203 Fisk street. He was connecting a bundle of wires when they were struck by lightning. Manning's hands and face were badly burned and it was some time before he recovered. He was sent to his home in Chartiers avenue, McKees Rocks.

Set Fire to the House.

The Allegheny fire department was called to the residence of Mrs. Armstrong, 3424 Perrysville avenue, yesterday afternoon to extinguish a blaze caused by lightning burning out an electric light connection and setting fire to the house.

A 30-foot section of the main sewer in Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny, caved in last night about 7 o'clock from the rain. Street cars on the Spring Garden line were blocked for an hour, and until the break is repaired only one track can be used.

The wind and lightning caused considerable damage in the towns in the Monongahela and Turtle creek valleys yesterday afternoon.

Fifteen cars on the Monongahela division of the Pittsburgh railways were struck by lightning at various places and disabled. The damage to the cars delayed traffic for a long time. A number of washouts occurred on the East Pittsburgh and Wilkinsburg division.

A large plate glass window in the Hutson drygoods store, Eighth avenue, Homestead, was blown in and broken. Shade trees were blown down in many yards in Homestead and cellars in West Homestead were filled with water from Wests run.

Telephone Cable Burned Out.

Lightning struck a cable of the P. & A. Telephone Company in Braddock and burned it out. A large section of the borough was without telephone connections part of the afternoon.

A relief committee was appointed at a meeting of the citizens of Oakdale last night and it was decided to solicit subscriptions for the relief of the 75 families who lost their homes in the flood of last Tuesday. It was also shown that the total property loss in the borough had amounted to about $100,000. Money, wearing apparel, provisions or furniture will be accepted. The members of the committee selected are: James McB. Robb, chairman; J. W. Nesbit, George H. Hoffman, Jr., W. J. McGill, W. J. Cassidy, John Milbren, Henry Crooks, J. E. Fox, Robert McFarland, James E. Callahan, Mrs. J. McB. Robb, Mrs. Charles O'Day, E. M. Nesbit, Dr. W. B. Lytle, E. M. Hopper, Beth Buchannan, Mrs. Edward L. Will.

PARKER MEN MAY GET ORGANIZATION

Said to Have Sufficient Proxies. Hill Expects Judge's Nomination Friday.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

UTICA, N. Y., July 1.—Former Senator David B. Hill, former Lieut.-Gov. William F. Sheehan, Jacob A. Cantor, Eliot F. Danforth and other adherents of Chief Judge Alton B. Parker, while en route to the Democratic national convention, are perfecting plans for a complete destruction of Tammany's opposition to their candidate. Senator Hill professed to believe tonight that Judge Parker would be nominated on the second ballot, if not on the first, and that the nomination would be effected on Friday. It was learned that Mr. Sheehan carries in his pocket four proxies of national committeemen, who cannot be present at the meeting scheduled early in the week, and that he expects to use them in perfecting the temporary organization in favor of Judge Parker. This will be an advantage gained for the seating temporarily of delegates from contesting seats favorable to Judge Parker, and will give them the naming of members of the committee on credentials who will make the permanent vote controlling the delegation. The death of the national committeeman from Nevada, it was noted today, also removes a vote against Judge Parker's friends on temporary organization.

Mr. Cantor voiced sentiments which the rest of the party approved when he said: "The fact of the matter is that the rank and file of Tammany is for Parker and Leader Murphy knows it. In fact a majority of the leaders are for him."

Mrs. Hall, daughter of Judge Parker, is on the train going to the convention, in hopes of seeing her father nominated.

Mine Superintendent Assaulted.

TRINIDAD, COL., July 1.—T. D. Mitchell, superintendent of the Francis county mines owned by the Rocky Mountain Fuel Company at Jerryville, three and a half miles west of Trinidad, was beaten over the head and cut with a knife by two men at Jerryville. His unconscious form was placed on the electric railroad, but he regained consciousness and crawled from the track before the car arrived.

Made the Rate Nine Mills.

Sheraden borough council last night fixed the tax rate for 1904 at nine mills. Burgess S. C. Criss has refused to sign an ordinance passed by council providing for a special election on July 27 for the purpose of voting on the proposed issue of $80,000 worth of bonds to reduce the floating debt.

Did Not Attempt Suicide.

PARIS, July 2.—The statement that former Premier Waldeck-Rousseau had attempted to commit suicide could not be confirmed last night, but friends of the family declare it to be a complete fabrication.

PARKER TALE OF INTENT OF BRYAN MEETS DENIAL

committee Monday. If on Wednesday the Parkerites find themselves in the majority they expect to make Mr. Williams chairman on the committee of resolutions. The permanent chairmanship will probably not be decided before Tuesday.

Some of the eastern delegates are booming Mayor Patrick Collins of Boston. There has been some talk of Senator Bailey of Texas, but it is considered impractical to have both the temporary and permanent chairman from a southern state. It is possible that the permanent chairmanship may be offered to ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison of Pennsylvania. The Keystone man would make an admirable presiding officer, but as his friends are still hoping that he may be chosen as the compromise presidential nominee, it is hardly probable that Pattison would listen to overtures regarding the permanent chairmanship. He will be guided, however, by the advice of Col. Guffey, who is expected here tomorrow afternoon.

August Belmont Arrives.

August Belmont arrived this afternoon. He had a long conference with Norman E. Mack, the committeeman from New York. Lee Mantle of Montana is also here. An incident of more than usual interest was the meeting this afternoon of Senators DuBois of Idaho and Teller of Colorado, and ex-Senators Cannon of Utah and Pettigrew of South Dakota. They had not met for eight years. At the Republican national convention in 1896 the quartet walked out of the convention because of its attitude on the silver question. National Chairman James K. Jones arrived today. Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, who has been in Europe for some months, is expected tomorrow.

One of the surprising rumors afloat tonight is to the effect that Senator Gorman of Maryland will not attend the convention. This story emanates from Parker sources and is to be discounted. The Parker people say that Gorman will not come for the reason that he realizes that the New York judge is certain of the nomination and that his presence here would only add to his personal humiliation. Conservative men believe that the Parker managers are carrying their game of bluff too far. While it is admitted that so far as instructed delegates go Parker is in the lead, it is claimed that this advantage is a most dangerous one; that his margin is not sufficient to clinch the certainty of success and therefore invites a field opposition which will prove disastrous to the New Yorker. Many believe tonight that Parker has not as good a chance as some of the dark horses yet to materialize.

Harmon Headquarters Opened.

Headquarters for Judge Harmon have been opened at the Jefferson hotel. Ohio will give him a complimentary vote unless he should withdraw his name before the roll is called. Friends of John R. McLean say that he is not a candidate for the vice presidency, also that he would stand very little show of securing it if he were. One of these said tonight that McLean would only take second place in case Cleveland was nominated, and that if such were to happen Cleveland would never listen to the proposition of having McLean as his running mate.

D. J. Campau of Michigan is active in his support of Judge Parker. As to his second choice he said: "If it becomes evident that Parker cannot be nominated I believe the next strongest and most available man will be Gorman of Maryland. He is a good Democrat and has the confidence of the party. It is my understanding that Gorman is not a candidate in any sense of the word, but I believe that if it becomes a matter of party duty he can be depended upon to respond."

Col. J. B. Breathitt, national committeeman from Arizona, says that unless Parker is nominated on the second ballot, it is anyone's fight. The man from the land of cactus thinks the outlook for a deadlock is exceedingly promising. He is scanning the horizon with his binoculars trying to focus a likely looking dark horse. Pattison of Pennsylvania, he says, is the most attractive and available runner in the bunch.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS LEAVE FOR ST. LOUIS

They Think the Interest in Cleveland Has Grown in Remarkable Manner.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Democratic exodus to St. Louis made a good beginning today and will reach its climax on Tuesday, when the rank and file of Tammany shouters will leave on special trains.

Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany hall leader, who declared yesterday his positive conviction that Grover Cleveland was the strongest candidate that the convention could choose, will start for St. Louis tomorrow afternoon. August Belmont, who will open the Parker headquarters in St. Louis, left this morning, and this afternoon a big bunch of leading Parker boomers, with David B. Hill at the head, left Albany for St. Louis.

The politicians consider that there is a remarkable interest shown in the chances of the nomination going to Grover Cleveland. There has been in the last 24 hours a surprising amount of talk about Cleveland from all parts of the country, much of it in advocacy of the former president. Friends of Judge Parker continue, however, to assert their belief that he will be nominated on the second ballot. A claim put forward for him today was that on the first ballot he would have a total of 504 votes, with 604 votes necessary to nominate under the two-thirds rule. Representatives of the anti-Parker forces said they could not see that this claim was justified and thought it excessive by anywhere from 33 to 50 per cent.

Political gossips said today that no matter what confidence the Parker men professed, Mr. Hill was taking no chances. They instanced as a sample of his extreme carefulness a report that he had equipped himself with a wealth of legal opinion, that McClellan's birth in Dresden would disqualify him for the presidency.

ALEXANDER DODDS.

Gardner and Wills Draw.

CHICAGO, July 1.—George Gardner of Lowell, Mass., and John Wills of Chicago fought six rounds before the Battery D Athletic club tonight, the decision being a draw.

from Pennsylvania. Arrangements are being made for a caucus of the Keystone men Tuesday night. At that time the colonel is expected to untrap his bandbox and free the 68 men who are subject to his orders. Until that time he is to remain mum on all questions pertaining to his presidential preference. Col. Guffey and State Chairman Hall are due here tomorrow. There is an army of interviewers awaiting the arrival of the colonel and it will require all the diplomacy at the command of the Pennsylvania leader to keep the cover on his secret.

A possible straw is gotten in a talk with ex-Representative Andrew J. Palm of Meadville, delegate from the Erie-Crawford district. He is the first representative of the state to arrive. When asked tonight for his opinion he replied:

Palm Talks for McClellan.

"I hear much talk here, at home and in Pittsburgh for McClellan of New York. He seems to be a man that all factions can unite upon."

"Did you hear any McClellan talk in Col. Guffey's office yesterday?" was a question asked.

"I have not seen Col. Guffey in some time," was his reply.

Sergeant-at-Arms Martin has apparently not been consulted by the mysterious men who are credited with having in charge the stampede to someone that can beat Parker. Stampedes are never a success unless the state standards can be picked up and carried into the procession of states that is rushing to the ranks of the dark-horse candidate. Martin has issued orders to have every state marker screwed to the floor, and this is construed as another evidence of the power that Wall street is attempting to wield in this convention.

Mayor Rose of Milwaukee is looming up as a strong vice presidential possibility. It is argued in his behalf that if he is placed on the ticket he will aid very materially in wresting Wisconsin from the Republicans, inasmuch as that party has a fierce factional fight on its hands. It would not be surprising to see a McClellan-Rose button make its appearance.

Well to Watch McLean.

While aspirants for a second place are being watched it might be well to keep an eye on John R. McLean of Ohio. He was expected to attend the convention. Word came today cancelling his engagement of quarters and his friends say that he will not be present. He participated in the Washington conference, which Col. Guffey insists was not held, and it may be that a place on the second throne was reserved for him by the king-makers.

Gen. Miles is tonight being discussed as a candidate for vice president. It is claimed that if he sidestepped the Prohibition nomination for president that the Democrats would take him up. Another story is that the cold water crowd would not have him. At all events he wants some nomination and is apparently willing to join any party that is ready to take him up.

Most of the local papers are booming Parker so vigorously that it is causing comment. Tonight one of them printed a table in which the New Yorker was given 624 votes on the first ballot. It required 666 to secure nomination. The Hearst managers are indignant and say the claim is a fake and is simply being put out in the hope of attracting the delegates that are uninstructed and undecided.

Hearst People Make Statement.

They have issued a statement saying the Parker people have no right to claim the votes of Alabama, Colorado, the District of Columbia, five delegates in Florida, any of the 20 in Kansas, that Minnesota will not cast over 10 votes against Hearst, that Parker will not get North Carolina, that the claim of 104 for Judge Parker is absurd, that the New Yorker's strength in Oregon is overestimated and that he cannot get the votes from Maine. This cuts the Parker tale down to 439 votes.

Speaking of Ohio tonight, L. C. Bernard of Cincinnati, who represents John R. McLean, says that Hearst cannot possibly get more than 11 votes out of Ohio.

Max F. Ihmsen, the chief manager of the Hearst campaign, made this statement tonight:

"The logic of the convention would seem to be the nomination of William R. Hearst. The Republican party has nominated Roosevelt and adopted a platform which is a stand pat one in every particular. Its non-committal on the trusts will be a great issue in the campaign this fall.

"The Democratic party can only succeed by reverting to Jeffersonian principles of equal rights to all, special privileges to none. It cannot win unless it declares against illegal trusts. If it does that, who can the logical candidate be? Who represents that issue? Who can carry the pivotal states? Without them the Democracy cannot win.

Hearst the Logical Candidate.

"No party can win that patterns after its opponent. The whole logic of the situation is that the Democratic party will adopt a moderate declaration of sterling Democratic principals and nominate Mr. Hearst. If the party is to win this fall, I cannot see any other course open for it."

Ex-Senator Henry Davis of West Virginia is here. He was a member of the sub-committee that drafted the platform in the first Cleveland convention. He believes that the party would show wisdom if it would reaffirm those principles. The West Virginia delegates will arrive tomorrow and will be quartered at the Jefferson. The caucus will be held Monday. John T. McGraw may be indorsed as a candidate for vice president. The Democrats are hopeful that the Republicans will get into a factional wrangle over the nomination of a governor and give them a chance of carrying the state. It is argued that with McGraw on the national ticket the possibility of success would be greatly improved. Mr. McGraw is on the ground.

Bernard Booming Harmon.

L. C. Bernard of Cincinnati is the chief representative of the Ohio Democracy. He is booming Harmon for the vice presidency. He carefully canceled any orders that he may have from McLean. It is understood that the plan is to reelect McLean to membership on the national committee. John A. McMahon is talked of as the state's representative on the committee on resolutions. The McLean program is said to include the election of C. F. Gillian as chairman of the delegation. The Lentz and Kilbourne factions are preparing to go before the national committee with a contest from the Columbus district.

P. Gray Meek, secretary of the Pennsylvania state committee, is here preparing for the arrival of the delegation, and he is a man of many troubles. The delegates will be quartered at the Southern or to more aptly term it, packed in at the Southern. Men, regardless of size, are to be jammed into each room.

Comforting Assurance to Meek.

Meek did not expect this crowding and when he objected the hotel management told him that it did not make any difference, as it is too hot to sleep in St. Louis. And the Pennsylvanians will be glad to get into the street to secure any air possible. Meek has placed a big electric sign, "Pennsylvania," over the headquarters. When he asked the local electric light company for a estimate of the cost, he was given this frank statement: "Our usual price is a cent and a half for each bulb, but as these are convention times we will have to charge you four and one-half cents per light. If the sign is lighted after midnight an additional charge of four cents a bulb will be made." It will cost $18 a night to use the sign from about 8:30 until midnight. Col. Guffey's quarters at the Southern will probably be the most costly in town.

NO DECLARATION FOR CLEVELAND BY M'LEAN

Ohioan Makes Indignant Denial. Gorman Plans Two Chances for Parker.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Judge Parker, as the man who is now in the lead for the Democratic nomination at St. Louis, will be given two chances at the convention. If it is not demonstrated on the second ballot that he can be nominated, then chaos, and out of chaos Grover Cleveland or George Gray with the chances largely in favor of Mr. Cleveland.

This is the situation, as it develops in Washington after numerous underground conferences, in which Senator Gorman has participated as the leading spirit. According to the present plans, as announced by his secretary tonight, Senator Gorman expects to depart for St. Louis with the leaders of the Maryland delegation tomorrow morning, but he may not go at all. Senator Gorman's absence from the convention would be taken as an indication that he will not hopes of the lightning striking him, or failing that, he is a candidate for chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Senator Gorman will take or send to St. Louis tomorrow morning the outline of a platform which comports well with the prediction made in the St. Louis dispatches to The Gazette this morning. Mr. Gorman is decidedly opposed to anything like even a mild affirmation of the Chicago and Kansas City money planks. But he feels that a positive repudiation would endanger the prospects of the party, and will advise as much silence on this question as possible.

John R. McLean of Ohio, who has been in several conferences with Senator Gorman and other leading Democrats during the week, was reported this morning to have come out in favor of Mr. Cleveland's nomination. "You can put it," said he tonight, "in the most positive terms that I absolutely repudiate the statement that I have declared for former President Cleveland, and that the interviews in which it is alleged that I made such remarks never occurred. I do not understand why I should have been so reported. I never said anything of the kind, and I will thank you to so state for me."

Train Upset and Engineer Dead.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., July 1.—(Special.)—An engine drawing a Baltimore & Ohio freight train was thrown from the track and overturned at Newburg this evening. Thomas Mason, the engineer, was caught underneath the locomotive and killed. The fireman was seriously injured but may live. The road was blocked for several hours.

Million Dollar Failure in Denver.

DENVER, July 1.—The Fidelity Savings association, located at 829 Sixteenth street, went into the hands of a receiver today. Liabilities are placed at $1,000,000 and Attorney J. Cheim has been made receiver. Officials say the association's assets are enough to satisfy all claims.

POSSIBLE RUSH TO CLEVELAND

Delegates from East of Mississippi Consider Chance Formidable—Mention Dark Horses.

PLATFORM MAY COMPROMISE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 1.—Practically the only feature of political interest associated with the approaching Democratic convention discussed in the hotel corridors today was the possibility of an attempt to stampede the convention to former President Cleveland. The movement in the interest of Mr. Cleveland, so far as it took shape today, was directed against the candidacy of Judge Parker. So far no headquarters have been established in Cleveland's interest, and no delegates who express a preference for him have arrived, but each train coming in from the states east of the Mississippi seemes to bring passengers who regarded the former president as a formidable possibility. This circumstance led to the conclusion that a systematic campaign had been organized in New York or Washington.

The friends of Judge Parker met the situation boldly, and apparently were welcoming it. They freely express the opinion that the serious discussion of Cleveland's name in connection with the presidency will have the effect of driving many delegates to their candidate. They expect many such wins from the west and south, and notwithstanding he has only about a fourth of the total vote pledged, hope to make such a showing at the very beginning of the balloting as will convince his followers that he is a winner, and thus prevent a stampede to Mr. Cleveland or anyone else.

Southerners Favor Cleveland.

Some of the talk in Cleveland's behalf comes from the southern states, and the Parker advocates attribute it to the declaration of the Chicago platform on the race question, which they say has inspired such fear among southern Democrats that they are willing to accept Mr. Cleveland because of their confidence that he would stand with them on that point, regardless of his views on other questions. It is quite freely admitted that if Judge Parker should fail early to secure the necessary votes, his chances would be materially injured.

"If," said a prominent southern senator, "the fight to get the two-thirds vote requisite by the time the third or fourth ballot is reached, he will be compelled to retire. In that event the nomination will go to a dark horse, and a very dark horse at that."

Among the "dark horses" most frequently spoken of are Arthur P. Gorman and Joseph W. Folk. John T. McGraw and former Senator Henry G. Davis of West Virgina, who were among today's arrivals, were outspoken in the advocacy of Gorman, saying that the West Virginia vote would be cast for him from the beginning.

Considering the Platform.

Longer in advance than usual, the platform question is receiving the serious consideration of delegates and others interested in the party's welfare, and it is already evident that there will be persistent effort to secure an expression of party views which will meet the approval of all factions. "We must get a pronouncement which will meet the demands of all Democrats," said Representative Clayton of Alabama, "but I believe it is going to be a comparatively easy matter to accomplish that result."

Other party leaders on the ground expressed themselves in like manner. But when they entered upon a comparison of views, it became evident that there are differences which will have to be smoothed down before the desired result can be secured. Evidently the principal contention will be over the point as to whether there shall be a specific declaration favorable to the affirmation of the principles enunciated in the platforms of 1896 and 1900, or whether there is already strenuous contention as to whether there shall be any reference whatever to those two declarations, and there are many shares of views as to how the subject should be covered.

May Influence Nomination.

It is generally believed that the character of the platform will have a marked influence upon the presidential nomination, and as only a majority vote is required for its adoption, its exact wording will be awaited with much interest. John Brisbane Walker of New York is urging the adoption of a financial plank "plain enough to be understood and so adjusted as to meet all business requirements."

Former Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, arrived in the city today and took apartments at the Jefferson hotel. He said that no definite arrangements for the organization of the convention had yet been made, and predicted that none would be made until the meeting of the full national committee, which will take place next Monday. He, however, advocates the selection of John Sharpe Williams of Mississippi, leader of the minority party in the house, for the position of temporary chairman, and there is now little or no doubt that the selection will fall upon Mr. Williams.

DURHAM RETURNS HOME AND TALKS TO PENROSE

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—(Special.)—Insurance Commissioner J. W. Durham, accompanied by his brother, John W. Durham, and Capt. J. Clayton Erb, arrived in the city shortly after noon today from the Adirondacks and went direct to his office, where he met James P. McNichol, Senator George A. Vare and a number of other political friends. Later he went to the Arcade building, where he remained some little time closeted with Senator Penrose. Details of the coming campaign were discussed. Later in the afternoon the commissioner went to Atlantic City, where he will remain until after the Fourth.

Youngstown Mills Shut Down.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 1.—(Special.)—The mills and Bessemer plant of the Republic Iron and Steel Company have shut down for an indefinite period. The sheet mill of the Youngstown Iron Sheet and Tube Company was shut down this morning and the skelp and tube mill will be shut down for a week tomorrow. The plants of the American Steel Hoop Company closed down this morning indefinitely.

COL. GUFFEY BOOMED BY JOHN B. LARKIN

was told of Mr. Larkin's sentiments just after he had bidden the colonel goodby on the train. "Col. Guffey is not a candidate. Is the Pennsylvania delegation for him? Indeed, it is. If the delegates should come to the opinion that Col. Guffey can be nominated they will be for him, even, I am afraid, against his own wishes.

"It seems to me, however, that Guffey's nomination is a remote contingency, possible only if the convention should be protracted. The chances of the men already prominently mentioned or instructed for would first have to be thoroughly threshed over and found unavailable."

"Men have been mentioned who, it has been said, could not secure the wholehearted support of the Democracy. Is Col. Guffey in that category?" Mr. Brennen was asked.

"No, he is not," replied Mr. Brennen. "I don't believe there is any other man of national prominence who goes to the convention counting more friends among the delegates and leaders than Col. Guffey. I'll have to admit that nobody would bolt the ticket because of the nomination of Col. Guffey. Mr. Bryan would be for him, Mr. Hearst would support him, Mr. Cleveland's adherents would accept him loyally. But he is not a candidate, and I am afraid that he would be the first man to work against the nomination of himself."

"If the Pennsylvania delegation concluded that there is an opportunity to nominate Col. Guffey, what then?"

"What then?" replied Mr. Brennen. "Well, watch us."

Col. Guffey left on the St. Louis Limited on the Panhandle railroad. He was accompanied by Col. J. K. P. Hall, the Democratic state chairman, and his stenographer. He said he had no statement to make.

The Democratic delegation will leave Pittsburgh tonight on the St. Louis Limited. Among the party will be William J. Brennen, Stephen Tobie, George A. Koehler, Robert M. Beck, J. P. Wall, George W. Guthrie, John F. O'Toole, W. L. McConegly, M. C. Donovan, all delegates and alternates, and Jury Commissioner Cornelius Casey. Delegate A. J. Barr will leave on the Wabash excursion this afternoon and Delegate James A. Clark will go tomorrow night.

LOCAL CRICKETERS LOSE.

Toronto Players Beat the Pittsburgh Team in Game at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., July 1.—(Special.)—The Toronto cricketers today at Gordon park defeated the Pittsburgh team by 27 runs, although at one stage of the game it looked like a sure win for the Americans, the college men having lost eight wickets for 47 runs. Plummer and McPherson, however, played first-class cricket and added 40 runs to the score before being separated, passing the Pittsburghers by four runs. Roberts and Clements bowled exceptionally well for the Pittsburghers.

The Pittsburgh team started the innings very poorly, but Stewart and Roberts improved the appearance of the score sheet. When the veteran Bissell and the youngster, Cash, who was private as a sub for Pittsburgh, got together runs came rapidly.

WILL HAVE PROGRAM.

Committee for Labor Day Exercises Will Meet Next Tuesday.

The souvenir committee of the Labor day demonstration held a meeting last night and opened bids for getting out a program. A solicitor was given the work of securing the advertisements.

The committee decided that the first meeting of the general committee will be held at 2110 Fourth avenue, next Tuesday. The chief marshal will not be elected until July 12. Edward P. Welsh, assistant business agent of the Plumbers' organization, has announced himself for the position. This makes three in the field.

A committee was appointed to draw up a circular letter to be sent to the different organizations throughout the district appealing to themem berso make manifest appealing to the members to assist in making Labor day exercises the best ever held in Pittsburgh.

A Piano For the Fourth of July
No doubt friends will visit you at your home on the Fourth, and, of course, you will wish to entertain them. It goes without saying that you will require a piano to do this adequately.
Music is a common bond of sympathy between all cultivated people. By its wonderful power it draws closer together the members of the same family, and under the spell of its charm strangers meeting for the first time are made to feel as old friends.
It is a noteworthy fact that at nearly all special times and occasions in the life of the individual or the nation, music plays a significant part. Most assuredly there should be a good piano in every home. Will there be one in your home to aid in fittingly celebrating the Nation's Birthday?
If you cannot buy now because you are unable to afford a good piano at this time. You are invited to come to this old established house, which sells the best pianos on the market, and select any instrument you wish. Only a small cash payment is necessary. The remainder may be paid a little at a time, entirely at your convenience.
Come in and select your piano. It will be delivered immediately, in plenty of time for the glorious Fourth.
Conservatory model upright piano $185—$15 first payment, $7.50 a month.

BOND ISSUES WILL RAISE TAX LEVY

Property Owners Must Pay Nearly Two Mills More in Taxes Next Year.

TOTAL MAY BE SIXTEEN MILLS

The property owners of the city will be compelled to pay more than 1½ mills in taxes next year than they paid this year, in order to pay the principal and interest on the bond issues to be made by the city administration. Bonds to the amount of $1,192,279 are already in process of being issued for the payment of judgments, claims and interest against the city. On July 12 the people are expected to vote $7,000,000 more for filtration and the removal of the hump, making a total in bond issues, for the year, of $8,192,278.

These bonds will bear 4 per cent interest, payable annually. One-thirtieth of the principal also becomes due each year and money to pay this must be deposited in the sinking fund. One-sixth of the bonds are to be redeemed every five years and the councils required each year to lay aside one-thirtieth of the principal to be applied to the redemption at the end of each term of five years.

One-thirtieth of the principal of $8,192,278, to be issued during 1904, is $270,742. Four per cent interest amounts to $321,801, making a total in principal and interest of $605,638 which will be collected next year in taxes from the owners of property.

The tax levy of 1904, as fixed by the city councils, was based upon a total valuation of property at $383,000,000, and the levy was fixed at 12½ mills. One mill raises $383,000. This amount divided into $605,638, the amount of interest and principal which the city will have to pay next year on the year's bond issues, will give a quotient of 1.7 mills.

This means that the property owner in 1905 will be assessed 1.7 mills more than he was in 1904, by reason of the bond issues of this year. Controller Lardin says a deficit in this year's receipts of about $750,000, which, if correct, will require an extra two mills next year to wipe out, making a total increase of millage next year of at least 3½ mills, or a total levy of 16 mills.

Mayor Hayes said yesterday that he anticipated opposition to the filtration and hump bond issues in the South Side and East End districts. The mayor expressed the wish that the people would affirm both bond propositions.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB IS IN FAVOR OF CRUSADE

Machine Owners Say That State Law Is Sufficient to Compel Slow Speed.

As a result of the police crusade against the speeding of automobiles it is likely that the bicycle squads will be materially strengthened in the East End. The patrolmen are unable to cope with the situation, especially in cases where the autos do not carry numbers. The Pittsburgh Automobile club is heartily in favor of the activity being shown by the police to minimize the danger of accidents and compel all owners of machines to display license numbers.

James Francis Burke, attorney for the club, yesterday held a conference with Director Harry Moore with regard to the violations. After the talk Mr. Burke said: "The club has no complaint to make. It is acting in conjunction with the police so far as possible, and othe agitation will result in much good. The state laws under which the cars are run is the most rigid of any in the United States.

"But it is a mistaken idea that the city has no control over the machines or their operation. There has been talk of passing or ordinances governing speed and so forth, but such a measure would not only interfere with the state law but it might not prove good law. I think the director has been very lenient with the offenders. It is about time that some one called a halt on those who insist on running their machines to the disadvantage of other vehicles and pedestrians."

Magistrate Negley yesterday morning, at the East End police station, gave A. B. Webb and W. J. Murphy, who were charged with running machines having the same number, the alternative of paying the costs or appealing the case. The costs were paid. F. G. Wertz, who was arrested on a similar charge, was given the same opportunity and paid the costs.

DIRECTOR SCANDRETT GIVES NOTE OF WARNING

Cautions the Public Against the Use of Dynamite Crackers in Public Streets.

With the largest Fourth of July fund ever contributed by the public, and with all preparations for a glorious celebration, Director Scandrett of Allegheny yesterday issued a note of warning against the promiscuous explosion of dangerous fireworks on the nation's natal day. It is his opinion that with excellent displays to the public, during afternoon and evening, there is no necessity for private jollifications on the public thoroughfares that may endanger the life of anyone.

In cautioning the public Director Scandrett refers to the act of assembly of 1901 which makes prohibitive the sale and manufacture of firecrackers containing dynamite. The act specifically prohibits the sale of what are commonly known as cannon and Jackson crackers and provides a penalty for those violating this statute. But their use in the streets is also warned against and offenders will be arrested and fined.

Particular attention is called to the fact that those found placing caps and other explosives on street car tracks will be dealt with severely, as this habit is considered more dangerous than any other. Arrangements have been made for band concerts and a vaudeville show in West Park at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. These will continue until dark, when the fireworks displays will be started on Monument and Troy hills. The director has provided a large box of fireworks of all kinds to be sent to the poor farm at Claremont, where the inmates will enjoy for the first time in years such a celebration.

Fire Test in Allegheny.

The board of inspectors of the National Fire Underwriters association yesterday afternoon witnessed an exhibition of the power of the Allegheny fire engines and the force of the water pressures. The test was made by Engine 1, 2-6 and 7 at the wharf at the foot of Goodrich street, under the direction of Fire Chief John K. Hunter. The test was pronounced by the inspectors one of the most satisfactory that has been made throughout the country.

If you want to succeed in life, and most people do, the habit of saving must be learned. 'Tis just as easy to save your money as it is to spend it for others to save and save. Ever think of that? Get out of the old spending rut and every pay day make a deposit with the Pigsburgh Bank for Savings, Smoke field street and Fourth avenue, where your savings will be secure and earn 4 per cent compound interest. Forty-five thousand wage-earners have $14,000,000 on deposit with this bank.

WABASH SPECIAL TODAY WILL OPEN THE NEW ROAD

About 300 Representatives of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Allegheny County Guests of Railroad on Trip to St. Louis.

Practically all arrangements for the special train of guests of the Wabash railroad, opening the new line into Pittsburgh today, were completed yesterday by the Pittsburgh officials of the company. The solid Pullman train will reach Pittsburgh this morning, pulled by one of the fine engines recently built by the Baldwins for the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad. With the train will come President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash railroad, with a number of other officials of that system and its allied lines.

The train will leave the new Wabash passenger terminal at the foot of Fifth avenue, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, city time. The time originally chosen was 5 o'clock, but this has been altered to one hour earlier to allow the party to see the opening of the new line.

Col. W. L. Hilton, freight traffic manager of the Wabash-Pittsburgh terminal, completed yesterday evening the assignment of Pullman accommodations to the various guests and closed the list. There will be considerably over 300 people in the party, including about 30 Wabash officials.

The party will reach St. Louis at noon tomorrow and will remain there until 11:30 o'clock Monday evening, seeing in the mean time the elaborate celebration of the Fourth on the Fike, as the world's fair midway is called.

Heavy as the train will be, with its dozen Pullman cars, it is likely that the 300 guests will be given one of the fastest rides they have ever enjoyed. The new road between Pittsburgh and the Ohio river at Mingo Junction is in good condition. On the Wheeling & Lake Erie the train will be double-headed and a fast schedule will be maintained. An 11-hour run will be given from Toledo across Indiana and Illinois into St. Louis.

The Wabash people have prepared a number of interesting side features for the trip and there promises to be plenty to interest all who make the trip.

BOOKS FOR VACATIONISTS.

Carnegie Library to Allow Four Books of Fiction on One Card This Summer.

The management of Carnegie library has arranged for special privileges for vacationists. Four books of fiction will be loaned on a card and need not be returned until October 1. They can be exchanged, however, by forwarding them to the library, together with necessary money to enable the library to return books requested in their stead.

In the monthly bulletin, just issued by the library, the death of Miss H. Elizabeth Cory, formerly librarian of the Lawrenceville branch, is made the subject of a special page, in which her work receives much praise.

Some Memoranda For This Saturday, July 2.

This store will be closed all day next Monday, July 4th.

The store will close today at 1 P. M., the first of our Saturday half holidays which we take great pleasure in giving our employes throughout July and August.

We will be quite ready today up until 1 P. M. to comply with your every demand for all Fourth of July requisites that can be named. There are Clearance Sales all over the house, and many of them are in the ready-made clothing departments—summer clothing for men and boys, summer clothing for women and girls—all at clearance prices.

Those Taffeta Silk Shirtwaist Suits went out in a hurry yesterday, all of them being sold by 12 o'clock. If the Eastern express is on time this morning we shall have 200 more of the suits on sale at 10 o'clock. Same price as yesterday, $9.75 for Taffeta Silk Shirtwaist Suits that are worth $20.00 and $25.00.

We urge upon every person who does not own a United States Flag to become the owner of one today. Every home should have a flag displayed on the Fourth of July. It is the great American holiday. It is the day that every true American loves better than any other weekday that happens to become a holiday. Flags are on sale in center aisle of West Store, as well as in Basement of East Store.

Saturday, July 2, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 12 of this issue.

With the delegates en route for St. Louis there is no certainty about candidates. Judge Parker leads and his strength has increased during this week. There has been a final effort to galvanize the Cleveland boom into active life, but it has not had much success. Parker may be nominated on second or third ballot. Failing that the chances will be rather against him. But between this and next Wednesday many combinations and concessions may be made.

George Frederick Watts, artist, who died in London yesterday, was a man as modest as he was talented. Twice he refused a proffer of a baronetcy in recognition of his ability in his calling. His portraits are among the most famous in English galleries. His work in marble was almost, if not quite, the equal of his paintings in oil. His marriage to Ellen Terry, the famous actress, brought him into unenjoyable notoriety, and it is probable that was a principal cause of the separation of the couple. Aside from his extreme modesty, which prevented him attaining the fullest measure of financial success, Mr. Watts was the true artist in every sense. His artistic success was all that could be desired and his name will live among the immortals. It is rare in these latter days for a man to prefer art for art's sake to the plaudits of the crowd and the accompanying financial returns.

Regular passenger service will be inaugurated on the Wabash out of Pittsburgh this evening. It will be preceded by the special hearing councilmen and other Pittsburgh guests of the road to St. Louis. This event marks the completion of an important adjunct to the transportation facilities of the largest tonnage-producing center in the world. The facilities are much needed. It would have been worth thousands of dollars to Pittsburgh to have had this line two years ago when the freight congestion was at its worst. Just now the railroads are able to care for all traffic offering, but the time will come again, and that soon, when the old trouble will be on. Then the Wabash will be able to help out. In the meantime the older roads have added tremendously to their capacity for handling business. When the boom times come the traffic of this region may be nearly double what it was before the blockade of two years ago.

National Committeeman Guffey and State Chairman Hall went as the vanguard of the Pennsylvania delegation to St. Louis yesterday. Today they will be followed by the other delegates and their friends. They will have just as much fun, no doubt, as if they were delegates from a state that might be expected to give a Democratic majority once in awhile. They are going to have as much influence in the convention as their brethren from the doubtful states and rather more than their fellows from the Democratic states of the south. It is among the possibilities that they may have a preponderant influence in naming the candidate for president. This standing of the Democratic delegation from Republican Pennsylvania is due more to Col. Guffey than to any other cause. Col. Guffey cannot make Pennsylvania Democratic, but he has done everything that is possible for his party.

In voting to suppress the appropriation for the French embassy at the vatican and to censure Premier Combes for his failure to represent the views of the government, the budget committee of the French chamber of deputies has taken extreme ground. There is evidently to be no compromise in the war on the religious orders and no let-up in the movement to separate church and state. The progress in France on this subject has been one of the most surprising developments of popular sentiment in recent times. Until the first radical action was taken a few years ago France was regarded as a strongnold of the survival of church and state partnership. When the first order was issued against the religious orders it was freely predicted that it would lead to the prompt overthrow of the government. By its method of procedure the ministry confessed it was by no means sure of its ground. It was probably as much surprised as others that the movement was heartily supported by popular sentiment. Each successive step in the crusade has made it more evident that the country was ripe for the experiment. Now the rupture is practically complete and there will be no backward step.

A Question of Veracity.

There is a direct question of veracity raised between the Japanese and Russian commanders by the report of Maj. Gen. Pflug, chief of staff to Admiral Viceroy Alexieff. Gen. Pflug declares the report that Russian ships were sunk on June 23 is absolutely false. The report of the sinking of those ships was sent officially to Tokyo by Admiral Togo. Both of the distinguished officers cannot be right. One has made a mistake or told an untruth. Apparently the report of Pflug is based upon information carried by a Russian torpedo boat destroyer to Niuchwang, news of which was sent by the Associated Press. The report of Admiral Togo, however, was sent direct from the scene of action.

In attempting to decide which is the true version the distant observer is compelled to rely on his judgment formed by the previous reports sent by the officers concerned. Admiral Togo has sent a dozen official dispatches concerning actions about Port Arthur. All of them have been fully verified by subsequent Russian reports. One of these was the news of the disaster to his own battleship. Another was of the disaster to the Russian battleship Petropaviovsk. The first Russian report on the sinking of the Petropavlovsk was that she had struck a Russian mine. Later it was said it was due to a Japanese submarine. Finally it was admitted to be due to a Japanese mine, just as Togo said. The Russian report on the sinking of the Hatsuse was that the Shikishima had been sunk. That is the name of Togo's flagship. The Japanese report again proved correct.

Aside from the presumptive evidence of the truthfulness of the Japanese official reports there is corroboratory information from disinterested persons. Refugees from Port Arthur, arrived at Chefoo, say there is a large warship on the rocks off Liao-Tie-Shan promontory. The Russians do not claim this to be a Japanese vessel, and they would hardly overlook it if there was any chance to claim it as a loss for the enemy. Therefore, until proven otherwise, it will be safe to assume that Togo told the truth.

There continues to be much confusion about the situation in Manchuria. There has been no fighting except of outposts. Upon the advance of a force under personal command of Gen. Kuropatkin the Japanese have retired from the pass at Dalin, captured after hard fighting last Sunday. In fact, it appears now that the Japanese are not ready for a general engagement, as they fall back from every Russian advance, as the Russians retreat from the Japanese advances. These maneuvers may be intended to entice Kuropatkin away from his fortifications, or to get him in position where his retreat may be cut off, but there is no news of movements looking to that result.

There was a report of a naval fight yesterday between Port Arthur and Chefoo, but at this writing there is no confirmation or news of results. Meantime the land attack on Port Arthur is progressing. The armies are in plain view of each other, with the Russians defending their fortifications, and the artillery duel is practically continuous. The Japanese guns are the better served, of longer range and the shells of more effective character, which indicates that the fall of Port Arthur will not be long delayed.

Foes of the Philippines.

An elaborate account by Mr. A. R. Colquhoun of American policy and achievements in the Philippines is just now the subject of much comment in England. Mr. Colquhoun is an experienced publicist who has devoted special attention to problems of eastern administration. His account of our proceedings in the Philippines is not pleasant reading, although it is not written in a hostile spirit and is gratifying in its full recognition of the good intentions animating our administration. The gist of his criticism is that we have made the mistake of trying to suit the natives to American principles of government instead of suiting the government to native characteristics. Upon those points there is room for argument as to whether we have made such a blunder as now appears to British eyes, but one statement made must certainly be admitted to be discreditable to American energy and enterprise. Though we have held the Philippines for six years, and though military rule came to an end three years ago, "not a yard of railway has been begun, only one wagon road is in process of construction; no canals or deepening of rivers have been undertaken, nor any improvement of harbors except at Manila, while the inter-island communication has only been facilitated by the purchase of 15 small coasting steamers."

Americans are not wont to be so slow. Usually wherever they set foot enterprise begins to hum. While the present situation is not so bad as when Mr. Colquhoun visited the islands, yet internal development lags, although Secretary Taft is making special efforts in its behalf. There is a reason for this backwardness and it is easy to find. The case illustrates Ingersoll's observation that a man is far more apt to be hurt by fool friends than by his enemies. The pertinence of the remark is not diminished by the fact that distinguished college presidents and philanthropists figure among the friends of the Philippines. So long as they are able to cloud with uncertainty the future of the islands investors will avoid its opportunities, however commercially tempting. It is easy to see that capitalists who might be perfectly willing to make advances upon property in the hands of responsible trustees would avoid the risk if there were a prospect that the trustees might be thrown out and the estate pass into irresponsible hands. That is the trouble now with the Philippines. Her fool friends are too active for her credit. At the banquet to the Filipino commissioners in New York, President Schurman of Cornell university took it upon himself to say: "We believe in the government of the Filipinos by the Filipinos, and one day I have no doubt that the Filipinos will be masters of their own political destiny." If there is really any prospect that such an event will take place and that the sovereignty of the United States will be withdrawn from the Philippines, small wonder that American enterprise avoids a country liable to become a political derelict.

The best way to promote life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness in the Philippines is to make it known decisively and emphatically that the American flag is there to stay; that there is no more prospect of political separation for the Philippines than for Alaska or Hawaii. President Schurman and men like him are misrepresenting the purpose of the American people and doing harm to the Filipinos when they encourage that people to believe that the United States will ever withdraw from the Philippines.

The Business Situation.

The first of July marks the beginning of semi-annual settlements, when corporations pay interest on bonds and dividends on stocks and firms and individuals meet maturing obligations. It is also an important interest period with the general government, states, counties and municipalities. It is estimated that not less than $150,000,000 interest and dividends become due and payable this month. In preparation for these settlements there is often a shifting of large credits which cause more or less disturbance in the money market. This week the money market both at home and abroad has been absolutely unruffled. The weekly statement of the Bank of England showed an increase of nearly $57,500,000 in loans and the Bank of France an increase of nearly $34,000,000. The New York bank statement today is likely to show a large expansion in loans. But in these three principal money markets of the world rates of discounts have remained at the minimum and there has been no sign of disturbance. Here in Pittsburgh two announcements were made during the week which reflect the complete recovery from the disturbance which occurred in local financial circles last fall. These were the declarations of dividends by the First National bank of Allegheny city and by the Federal National bank of Pittsburgh. These two institutions were temporarily embarrassed last October. Since then they have not only been reorganized, but their business has become so well established and prosperous that they are able to distribute a portion of their profits to stockholders. Taken altogether, the general and local financial situation seldom presented a sounder appearance at the beginning of a new half year.

The industrial situation is less satisfactory, and yet even here there has been an improvement in sentiment. In the iron trade the movement to restrict output is still in progress. Last week 2,500 coke ovens in the Connellsville region became idle, and the production now is said to be the smallest in recent years, barring periods when labor troubles interfered with operations. Of course, this means a corresponding reduction in the output of coal. The contraction is due to the going out of blast of pig iron furnaces. Necessarily there will be a falling off in railroad traffic in the industrial territory affected, which will entail idleness upon many workmen. Despite this wholesale cutting down of production to meet the requirements of consumption there is, as has been said, an improvement in sentiment. There is a strong feeling that the real needs of the country for iron and steel products have not been diminished, but that orders are merely being held back. When consumers see that there are no surplus stocks piling up to threaten demoralization in prices and that there is nothing to be gained by waiting, they will be more disposed to supply their needs at current prices. This at least is the theory of manufacturers. The present well organized state of the trade furnishes the opportunity to test the theories advanced when the great corporations were formed. One important factor in the situation is the almost complete shutting out of foreign importations of iron and steel and the large increase in the exports of these commodities.

When the agricultural belt covers so great an extent of latitude and longitude as is the case in the United States it is the exception rather than the rule that conditions should be uniformly favorable in all sections at the same time. The crop bulletin issued by the weather bureau during the week was a little less satisfactory than in the week before. There has been wet weather in the winter wheat belt which interfered with harvesting, and the progress of spring wheat and corn has not been so rapid as desired, but taking the country as a whole conditions are probably up to the average at this season.

The stock market remained exceedingly dull and narrow all week, but the undertone was firm, and the net result is slightly higher prices for standard investment stocks and bonds. So far as speculation is concerned, it is practically dead in Wall street and exhibits but little life in the commodity markets.

The heights by great men scaled and grabbed
Came not by oratory's flight;
But they, while their companions gabbed,
Were keeping mum with all their might.

The Prohibitionists are probably now convinced that you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink.

Talked of in Gotham

By GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 1.—Somehow there seems to be more apprehension of disaster from Fourth of July fireworks this year than usual. The Sun today prints a long and weighty article on the danger of tetanus from blank cartridges and cannon crackers and warns parents that when their boy is hurt in the regular course of celebrating, he should be hustled to a doctor at once. According to the writer, who evidently has carefully collected his facts, "Seven-eighths of the wounds which developed tetanus last year were inflicted by blank cartridges. Most of the remainder were due to giant firecrackers."

Then the article further says that "the tetanus bacillus is very common in the streets of large cities. It is sure to be on the hands of persons who have been celebrating the Fourth of July in the street." Thus you see that old bugbear, the microbe, is a part of Independence day jollification, as it is of everything else practically in modern life. No wonder the fire marshal here said that, if he had his way, he would forbid the sale of fireworks altogether in this city. A man of experience and observation, doubtless he knows all about the tetanus bacillus, and he would rather not give it an opportunity to force its way into the tissues of the youth of the metropolis if there is any way of preventing it by restricting or forbidding the sale of saltpeter and brimstone. The main point made by the Sun's article is that wounds made by blank cartridges should be thoroughly cleansed by a surgeon immediately, and should be otherwise treated by him in such a way as will minimize, if not remove altogether, peril of tetanus. In this connection it is pleasing to note that the sale of toy pistols to boys under 16 years old is absolutely forbidden in New York. Persons older than that do not want them. There are hardly any on sale anywhere in the city.

Missouri Wheat Belt Demand for Men.

A Pittsburgh reader of The Gazette has written to me asking particulars about the demand for men to go to the wheat belt in Missouri, about which I wrote something in this column a few days ago. He can learn what he desires to know by addressing John J. Bealin, superintendent of the New York State Free Employment Bureau, No. 107 East Thirty-first street, New York. I understand that men seeking employment in Missouri are expected to pay their fares, although special rates are made for them.

In some cases farmers who want help are no doubt willing to assist good men in reaching the fields. That, however, is something that Mr. Bealin can explain. He is always ready to give all information for which he may be asked. It is worth noting that he has sent some 200 men to work on farms in New Jersey and on Long Island, and all are doing well. Among them are a number of Russian and Polish Hebrews, who gained their knowledge of agriculture at the Baron Hirsch farm, Vineland, N. J., one of the finest institutions for teaching men to be self-reliant that can be found on all this broad continent.

Free Music and Baths.

Musical ablutions were the luxury for tenement dwellers in the neighborhood of the William H. Seward park tonight. The first free public bath on land was opened there and to add to the hygienic effects of the soap and water there was a band concert and a great deal of "chin music," if the magnificent oratory of several speakers may be so flippantly described. It is a large and handsome bathhouse, its architecture generally suggesting one of the luxurious baths of Pompeii or Herculaneum. Both men and women can be accommodated. Three other baths will be built in city parks, and the total capacity then will be 30,000 baths daily. Who will dare to talk about "the great unwashed" in New York after that?

Crowning of Religious Statue.

What will probably be the greatest religious celebration ever seen in this country began this evening in "Little Italy." It begins with a novena at the Church of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, in East One Hundred and Fifteenth street, and is participated in by all the Italians living in that parish, as well as by many outside. It will last until July 10, Sunday a week, when impressive ceremonies will take place in the church. Bishop Cusack will celebrate solemn high mass in the morning with Father Thomas J. Campbell preaching the sermon.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the statue of the blessed Virgin and Infant Christ will be carried in solemn procession to Thomas Jefferson park and set up in the pavilion. There Archbishop Farley, by instructions of the pope, will crown the statue with all the ceremonial of the church. This will be the first time a religious statue ever was crowned in the United States, although the ceremony is a common one in the continent of Europe, particularly in Italy. It is expected that the act will be witnessed by 30,000 or 40,000 people. The crowns are made in Rome and brought to this country by Father Tolina, of the Pius Society of Missions. The crown which will be placed on the head of the virgin is a magnificent structure of solid gold, set with precious stones. On the cross which surmounts it are five large diamonds; on the crown proper is an immense solitaire diamond. Below it is an emerald and diamond of great value, presented by the pope, and a cluster of sapphires and pearls which were the gift of Archbishop Farley.

One of the peculiar features of the church is that the priests connected with it are Irishmen, although the congregation is Italian. However, the priests speak Italian, having all been brought from Rome. The pastor is the Rev. Father John Dolan, whose name proclaims his nationality, but whose Italian is the purest Tuscan, such as is generally spoken in Rome by the educated classes.

Victim of Poisoned Steak.

Now we have a Mt. Vernon man sick in bed, and swearing in paroxysms of pain that he was poisoned by a hotel steak in Philadelphia. His physicians say that the pestiferous ptomaine has been working on the constitution of our friend in Mt. Vernon, and that he is lucky to be getting well. He is a wealthy man and could afford to pay for a steak above suspicion, but as it was, he fell foul of one that had something wrong with its constitution, and the result might have been a lessening of the population of Mt. Vernon—the town where the "fakes" come from—as any New York newspaper man can tell you.

IT IS TO SMILE.

Hiram, king of Tyre, had just been introduced to Solomon.

"Yes," said Hiram, without cracking a smile, "it's a sort of pneumatic Tyre," which was considered good repartee in those days.—Chicago Journal.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

You will be kind,
You will not use slang,
You will try to make others happy,
You will not be shy or self-conscious,
You will never indulge in ill-natured gossip,
You will never forget the respect due to age,
You will not swagger or boast of your achievements,
You will think of others before you think of yourself,
You will be scrupulous in your regard for the rights of others,
You will be as agreeable to your social inferiors as to your equals and superiors,
If you are well-bred.

Of course, you know this—have known it all your life—but it is dollars to doughnuts you don't show by your life that you know it.

Ill-breeding is what's the matter with the people and not negligence on the part of Providence, nor unusual activity on the part of Satan, as some would have us believe.

The fact of the matter is that Satan is only a sort of scavenger, a wolf beside the trail that picks up straggiers, a handy makeshift for those who have accumulated a bunch of badness of which they are ashamed and stand in need of someone or something to blame it on.

Satan won't bother you a little bit if you keep on the trail, but if you straggle away from the straight path he surely will catch you.

Or if you are foolish enough to take chances on doing the wrong thing you will find his pawn shop open for business and there you can "spout" your reputation or anything, but the rate of interest is high, very high.

* * * * *

Every point on earth is equally near to heaven, and equally distant from sheol, but the way to the former is straight, while to the latter it is more or less crooked and roundabout.

The heavenly way grows brighter and lighter the farther you go, while sheol-way becomes darker and more dreary with every onward step.

Is it worth while to travel sheol-way when the outcome is anything but desirable? It promises much and its promises are sure as anything, but are they worth while?

Pause in your talk, rein off sense, judge your heart, and measure your worth, for it is from the fullness of the heart that the mouth speaketh. And there, as you speak so are you heard, and being heard the hearts of others are affected—affected for good or ill according to your words.

* * * * *

Are you only dreaming that you live, and are your pleasures and troubles less than thin air?

There are advanced thinkers who teach that there is nothing real, but that our spirits simply dream this stuff we call existence. Nor is it an easy teaching to successfully combat, because it is all so intangible, so thin and airy that one can't get a good hold on it.

This is a very old idea, and has, perhaps, never been more clearly set forth than by a Chinese philosopher, who lived before the Christian era began, as follows:

"Once upon a time I, Chung Tzu, dreamed I was a butterfly, fluttering hither and thither, to all intents and purposes a butterfly. I was conscious only of following my fancy as a butterfly and was unconscious of my individuality as a man. Suddenly I awakened and there I lay, myself again. Now, I do not know whether I was then a man dreaming I was a butterfly or whether I am now a butterfly dreaming I am a man."

How is it with you? Are your pleasures genuine and your troubles the real thing?

But what's the difference when the sensations are real enough for all purposes? They are real enough to affect your spirit, which is your life, and that is all they could do if you are a material being living in a material world.

"Life is real, life is earnest," sang the poet, and poets know about such things.

* * * * *

Maybe you can't quite understand why you should be miserable, more or less, if this is a world of pleasure, or was intended to be such.

This puzzles a lot of us, and gives us no end of mental worry and heartaches. And it is well that we are puzzled, for if it were not so we wouldn't bother our heads with thinking at all.

That some wise ones have been bothered in the same way is shown by the writings they have left for others to read and to study and to enjoy. Here is a little preachment found in Thomas Carlyle's "Past and Present":

When an individual is miserable what does it most of all behoove him to do? To complain of this man or of that, of this thing or of that? To fill the world and the street with lamentation, objurgation?

Not so at all; the reverse of so.

All moralists advise him not to complain of any person or of anything, but of himself only. He is to know of a truth that being miserable he has been unwise.

Had he faithfully followed Nature and her laws, Nature, ever true to her laws, would have yielded fruit and increase and felicity to him; but he has followed other than Nature's laws, and now Nature, her patience with him being ended, leaves him desolate, answers with very emphatic significance to him, "No, not by this road, my son; by another road shalt thou attain well-being. This, thou perceivest, is the road to ill-being; quit this!"

So do all moralists advise, that the man penitently say to himself first of all, "Behold I was not wise enough; I quitted the laws of Fact, which are also called the laws of God, and mistook for them the laws of Sham and Semblance, which are called the Devil's laws; therefore am I here!"

* * * * *

You may preach till you're dumb,
You may feel till you're numb,
And give till your dollars are few;
You may weep till you're blind
For the woes of mankind,
And that's all the good it will do.

You may wrestle and pray
To find out a way
To pull an erring one through;
But the string that you use
Will be hitched to your fuse,
And that's all the good it will do.

Each one his pasture must keep,
Each one his harvest must reap,
For God made him him and you you;
But a hand-clasp and smile
Will e'en Satan beguile,
And here is the good you can do.
—Eleanor Kirk.

Is it not better and wiser to conquer one's self than to be struggling to convert a neighbor?

There is a class who never consider their own souls in a healthy and prosperous condition unless they are borrowing trouble on account of their neighbor's souls. They want to save somebody by converting them. And they forget that soul growth, development, is from within, for each one. The effort of painful battling even for moral goodness is distasteful to the thoughtful person. The aspiring soul may indeed strive and pray for self-knowledge and understanding.

"Not all the pomp and rituals, nor the savor
Of gums and spices, can the unseen One please,
As if His ear could bend with childish favor
To the poor flattery of the organ-keys!
Not such the service the benignant Father
Requireth at His earthly children's hands;
Not the poor offering of vain rites; but rather
The simple duty man from man demands.
For He whom Jesus loved has truly spoken:
The holier worship which He deigns to bless
Restores the lost, and binds the spirit broken,
And feeds the widow and the fatherless.
O brother man! Fold to thy heart thy brother.
Where pity dwells, the peace of God is there.
To worship rightly is to love each other:
Each smile a hymn, each kindly deed a prayer.
Follow with reverent steps the great example
Of Him whose holy work was doing good:
So shall the wide earth seem our Father's temple,
Each loving life a psalm of gratitude."

One's chiefest duty here below
Is not the seeming great to do,
That the vain world may pause to see,
But in steadfast humility
To walk the common walk and bear
The thousand things, the trifling care,
In love with wisdom patiently;
Thus, each one in his narrow groove,
The great world nearer God may move.
—Matthew Hunt.

Far Away Australia

By the Rev. Francis E. Clarke, D. D.

ARTICLE VI.

Australians regard the American as the embodiment of enterprise, business sagacity and commercial smartness, although sometimes I fear sinister side of meaning is attached to the word "smart."

Australia is far enough away from America to prevent any little heartburnings, jealousies and misunderstandings such as often prevail on both sides of the Canadian boundary, and yet it is connected by such frequent lines of communication that the Americans are not strangers to the Australians. Many of them go "home"—England is always "home" to the Australians, although perhaps he has never seen her shores—and the long journey by way of America makes them superficially, at least, familiar with the republic.

Yet there are some curious misunderstandings which I have found, and some curious impressions which I have tried to dissipate. Some of these impressions are trivial, but interesting, because of their persistence.

I have been told here dozens of times, for instance, that in America every plate at every meal is surrounded by a dozen little dishes containing vegetables, sauces and all sorts of gastronomic knick-knacks. When I have assured my friends that such a large array of crockery was only to be found in second-class hotels, and even there it was going out of fashion, they could hardly believe that I spoke the truth.

A Few Misapprehensions.

I have also been informed that Americans eat many meals a day, bolt their food like ostriches and deluge themselves in season and out of season with ice water.

To the latter third of this list of impeachments I have had to plead guilty, but at the same time I have reminded my friends that the five meals in which many Australians indulges, including afternoon tea and a late supper, are rightly reduced to three in America, and in some families even to two.

One of our hostesses declared that she was afraid she could not get enough for us to eat, as she had heard that Americans were great gourmandizers, and she was quite relieved when she found that Americans are like other Christians.

I have been congratulated may a time within the past two months that I do not speak in an intolerably offensive way through my nose, which is considered to be the characteristic of Americans, and I have found it almost unbelievable when I tell my friends that very few educated people in America do so.

A very offensive compliment, undesignedly offensive, has been conferred upon me when they say, "You do not speak like an American at all," or "You have no nasal accent."

In fact, the American accent is apparently an unfailing source of alleged humor and banter, and people with such a strong cockney accent that it is difficult for an American to understand when they speak about the "dily piper" and the "bby" and who make havoc with their "h's," find the American pronunciation excruciatingly amusing. Still, these are little matters that disturb no one's serenity and only enhance the gaiety of the nation.

Yellow News Reports.

But there are some more serious misunderstandings which I have done my best to remove. These are produced largely by the news that is cabled across the Atlantic from day to day. If there is a frightful murder in any part of America from Alaska to Louisiana, it is sure to find its way into the papers of the Antipodes. If a negro is lynched with horrible atrocity the fact is cabled in full. If there is a railway disaster, or fire, or theater catastrophe the news agents consider this as legitimate "copy," but the great philanthropic and educational movements and religious gatherings and the multitude of good deeds are seldom reported.

The theory which apparently prevails all the world over is that "goodness is not news," while wickedness of every variety is spicy and entertaining. The evident result is that American life is distorted in the minds of distant readers of the newspapers, who naturally consider that everything in America is done on a tremendous scale. The railway accidents are always appalling, the murders are always horrible, the divorce cases are of a most nauseous character, and as one reads the news one wonders that the Australians do not thank God on retiring every night that they are not as other men are, or even as those wicked Americans.

The fact that they do not show such a disposition after reading such information speaks well for their common sense and Christian charity. But America can cast no stones on this account, for it is the startling outre and exceptional that are often telegraphed back from Australia to the American papers.

A Book That Has Hurt.

Perhaps the book that has done more than any other to give a false impression to our Australian cousins of American life is one entitled, "America at Work," by Foster Frazer. It has been very wildly circulated both in New Zealand and Australia, and is accepted as law and gospel by a great many who have read it.

It is not meant to be unfriendly, but sets out to laud American business conservatism. The book was meant to wake up John Bull, but a more misleading and superficial book it is hard to imagine. Here are some choice extracts which have made Australians think that America is a nation of sharpers and business pirates. "In America," the author says, "I did not speak to half a dozen men but had their arms up to their elbows in money making." What a strange class of Americans Mr. Frazer must have mingled with to find none other than commercial sharks! "Of the sweetness of home life the American knows very little." Where could he have been entertained and what kind of families must he have seen?

"Duty," he goes on to say, is not a word in the American directory. Dollars is; they do not talk to men about what is right and fair; they talk about how they can win more dollars."

Windy City Roasted.

It is strange, indeed, that such a rotten community as he describes can exist for a single year. If that were true, American business life would fall to pieces in a twelvemonth from the weight of its own unutterable corruption. If "duty" is not a word in the American business directory how do Americans meet their obligations or keep their goods up to the samples? How do they ever succeed in competition with the rest of the world without such a word as duty in their directory?

Mr. Frazer is especially severe upon Chicago. "Manners," he says, "are things that the Chicagoan has an open contempt for; courtesy and good manners do not count." I have known a good many Chicagoans in my life, but I have never seen such a monstrosity yet; when he is found he ought to be put as a freak in a dime museum.

Mr. Frazer goes on to say that few churches in Chicago are open on Sunday evening, while the theaters are in full blast. That may be true of the theaters, but of the thousand churches it is probable that but few omit evening services.

Text-Book Misinformation.

This is not the only book which has misrepresented the nation. Even a school textbook in Tasmania, I am told, gives the impression that the Americans are dishonest, repudiators of debts, and it cites Michigan, Pennsylvania and Tennessee, if I remember rightly, as states that have defrauded their creditors. However, these misrepresentations are only spots on the sun, unsavory flies in the ointment.

For the most part they are discredited wherein they are read, and there is a constantly growing, friendly and cordial feeling on the part of Australians toward their American cousins. They share in the rapprochement of the English-speaking races everywhere.

As in old England itself, misunderstandings are giving way to generous feelings, jealousies to admiration, and sneering condescension to generous good will. So it is here in this great land beneath the Southern Cross and the ties of a common language, and of common problems, and of a common religion are welding together as never before the different links of the great English-speaking races which now girdle the globe.

Why They Attended.

Kipling once described the Sunday morning service of a battleship on which he took a cruise. It was a very well-attended service, every sailor not on duty being there, and after it was over Kipling said to one of the jackies: "Are you obliged to attend these services every Sunday morning?" "N-sir," said the sailor, "not exactly obliged, but we grog w't be stopped if we didn't."—Chicago News.

The Death Roll

George Frederick Watts.

George Frederick Watts, the famous artist, sculptor and portrait painter and former husband of Ellen Terry, died yesterday afternoon in London, after a short illness. Death was caused by bronchitis. Watts lived a quiet life and was entirely devoted to his art. He refused to sell much of his best work and gave it to the British nation. An early marriage with Ellen Terry, the actress, was dissolved in 1888, and Watts then married Miss Mary Fraser-Tytler, who survives him. He twice refused a baronetcy, took first-class medals at Paris and Antwerp, was elected to the French Institute in 1903 and on building a memorial at Aldergate for those who lost their lives endeavoring to save life, received the Order of Merit from the king. He was especially well known as a portrait painter and had painted more famous men than any other artist of his time. Among his subjects were Gladstone, the duke of Devonshire, Tennyson, Browning, Swinburne, Matthew Arnold, William Morris, John Stuart Mill, Carlyle, Lord Leighton, Rossetti, Garibaldi, Guisot and Jerome Bonaparte. The nobility and breadth of his sculptures were perhaps unsurpassed in his period. Among his best-known marbles are: "Clytie," "Lord Lytton," "Physical Energy" and "Hugo Lapine." He was born in London in 1817 and when hardly more than a boy he was admitted to the Royal academy. In 1866 he resigned. In the period of his activity he was known as the most prominent artist of his time. The greater part of his life-work—didactic canvases and portraits—he presented to the national gallery of British art and the national portrait gallery, where they were meant to form a "nucleus of a national gallery of purely British art." The most interesting of Watts' work was symbolic and didactic. Watts preached of the danger of riches, the cruelty of greed, the power of love and the fallacy of the fear of death. He was deficient in academic training, but his constructive powers were good and his ideas of color, which he got for the most part from Tintoretto in Venice, were powerful. His symbolic figures were always ideal and classical and it is said that he drew his inspirations for them largely from the Elgin marbles. Among the most important paintings he did in this line are "Love and Life," now in the White House at Washington; "Love and Death," "Love Triumphant," "Sir Galahad" and "Orpheus and Eurydice."

Miss Mary B. O'Brien.

Miss Mary Blanche O'Brien, aged 20, daughter of the late Dennis O'Brien, died at her home in Railroad avenue, Carnegie, yesterday afternoon. She was born in Carnegie and was educated in the public schools of that place, and was graduated from the high school in the class of 1902. She entered the Pittsburgh office of the Pittsburgh-Coal Company as a stenographer and held that position until about two months ago, when illness forced her to give up her position. She is survived by her mother and three brothers. Her father, who died two years ago, was at one time road supervisor of the Pittsburgh division of the Panhandle railroad. Requiem high mass will be offered over her remains Monday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Luke's Catholic church, Carnegie. Interment will be made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mrs. William H. Williams.

Mrs. Mary A. Williams, aged 45, wife of Councilman William H. Williams, died at the family home, Talbot avenue and Penn street, Braddock, yesterday morning, after a long illness from a complication of diseases. She was active in church and charitable circles in Braddock and was well known. She was born in Johnstown, Pa., and was a daughter of the late Isaac W. and Margaret Edmunds, prominent residents of Johnstown. The family moved to Braddock 25 years ago. Twenty-two years ago she was married to Mr. Williams. Besides her husband, two sons, Louis H. and Richard W., 3 sisters, Mrs. R. W. Edmunds, Cyrus Edmunds, George Edmunds and a sister, Miss Lillie Edmunds, survive. She was a charter member of the First Baptist church, Braddock.

Taken Home for Burial.

The remains of John S. Parker were taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Parker, in Philadelphia Roads, O., yesterday for burial there tomorrow. Mr. Parker was baggagemaster at the Fourth avenue station of the Panhandle railroad and died at his home in Fairmont avenue, Sheraden, Thursday at midnight. Besides his parents, he is survived by his widow. He was a native of Louisville, O., and came here three years ago.

Obituary Notes.

L. K. Powell, aged 75, of New Brighton, Pa., died yesterday from heart disease. He leaves a widow and two sons, Elmer and Ira, both of New Brighton.

Dr. James B. McElrath is dead at Jackson Center, Pa., from paralysis. He was graduated from Jefferson Medical college at Philadelphia and had practiced for 34 years. One son survives him.

Joseph R. Ryan, national Democratic committeeman from Nevada and head of the Nevada delegation to the Democratic national convention, died yesterday at the Jefferson hotel, St. Louis, of pneumonia.

Conrad Bittenbanner, one of the oldest residents of Greenville, Pa., died yesterday, aged 82. He was a "Forty-niner." A widow and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Brown of Greenville and Mrs. Esther Woodworth of California, survive.

Mrs. Josiah Hummel, aged 60, widow of Josiah Hummel, died at her home near Grove City Thursday. She is survived by the following children: The Rev. H. B. Hummel of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh; F. T. Hummel of Brownsville; Mrs. John C. McClintock of Harrisville, and Mrs. C. W. Reed of New Lebanon, Pa.

Eckert Kalb, formerly a well-known farmer of Butler, Pa., died Thursday at his home near Los Angeles, Cal., to which place he moved three years ago. RAISES HIS VOICE DEFENDING LAW

MAY LEAD TO GRAVER ACTS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DENVER, July 1.—Justice Robert U. Steele of the state supreme court today filed his opinion dissenting from the decision of the majority in refusing a writ of habeas corpus to Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, when held as a military prisoner at Telluride by order of Gov. Peabody. Justice Steele says in part:

No person who has the slightest claim to respectability should hesitate to approve the action of the governor in enforcing the law, and I am willing to uphold him and to applaud him so long as he keeps within the lines of the constitution, but I am not willing to uphold him when, in my opinion, he breaks down the barriers erected by the people for their protection, nor am I willing to resort to the constitution elastic properties for the purpose of sustaining him, nor to join in the estimation of a precedent which will not apply to other exigencies or other conditions when another governor undertakes to exercise the same arbitrary power.

It follows, of course, that if the present executive is the sole judge of the condition which can call into action the military power of the government and can exercise all means necessary to effectually abate the conditions and the judicial department cannot inquire into the legality of his acts, that the next executive may, by his ukase, exercise the same arbitrary power. If the military authority may deport the miners this year, it may deport the farmers next year.

If a state, which is not a rebellion, must be so regarded because the governor says it is, then any condition must be regarded as a rebellion which the governor declares to be such; and if any condition must be regarded as a rebellion because the governor says so, then any county in the state may be declared to be in a state of rebellion, whether a rebellion exists or not, and every citizen subjected to arbitrary arrest and detention at the will and pleasure of the head of the executive department. We may, then, with each succeeding change in the executive branch of the government, have class arrayed against class and interest against interest; and we shall depend for our liberty, not upon the constitution, but upon the grace and favor of the governor and his military subordinates.

In no other case presented to this court have principles so important and so far-reaching been involved. In none elaborately and ably argued, and the position of counsel was clearly defined; yet the court has evaded the fundamental questions presented and has based its decision upon theories long ago determined by jurists and statesmen to be illogical and false.

Justice Steele then quotes numerous high authorities to show that the constitution makers never contemplated placing the power of suspending the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus in the hands of the executive, and that the power is exclusively vested in the legislative branch.

"No one may be restrained of his liberty without charge being preferred against him; every other guarantee of the constitution may be denied him.

DR. SWALLOW EXPECTS RECORD-BREAKING VOTE

Says He Is Sorry Gen. Miles Did Not Accept Prohibition Nomination.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, PA., July 1.—The Rev. Dr. Silas C. Swallow, the Prohibition candidate for president, will not say whether he will accept the nomination until officially notified, and he has consulted National Chairman Stewart and other party leaders.

Swallow's friends have no doubt of his acceptance, and that if Mrs. Swallow's health improves, he will make a speaking canvass similar to his campaigns when he was the Prohibition candidate for state treasurer in 1897 and for governor one year later.

The doctor is pleased with his nomination, because he is the first ordained minister to be nominated for president. He said tonight that he was sorry Gen. Miles did not see his way clear to accept the nomination.

Swallow also said that Miles' official orders, while at the head of the United States army, were along the line of the policy of the Prohibition party and that the general would have made a very acceptable candidate.

Asked what are the prospects of the Prohibition national ticket in this year's campaign, Swallow replied:

"I am confident there is a tendency on the part of the people to seek a new party alignment, and I shall be very much disappointed if our candidate, whoever he may be, does not receive a larger vote than was ever cast for a Prohibition nominee for president."

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY.

Couple of Beaver County Married Fifty Years—Many at Celebration.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., July 1.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Socrates A. Dickey of Fallston celebrated their golden wedding anniversary today. About 150 guests were present. The children who attended are Mr. and Mrs. John B. Dickey, Coraopolis; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Forbes, Beaver Falls; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Dickey, Wilkinsburg; Mrs. Alaska Dickey, Beaver Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Alaska Dickey, New Brighton, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Dickey, Fallston.

Mr. Dickey has been prominent in the county for many years and at present is tax collector in Fallston. His residence is a landmark. It was used as an office by Aaron Burr when he was attempting to built a fleet of boats near Fallston with which to carry out his expedition against New Mexico with Blennerhasset.

"DIXIE" PLAYED WHILE BODY WAS LOWERED IN GRAVE

MOUNT VERNON, O., July 1.—The remains of Daniel Emmett, the author of the song, "Dixie," who died June 7, were laid to rest in Mound View cemetery at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The funeral was in charge of B. P. O. Elks, Lodge No. 140, Al G. Fields, marshal. A large number of persons called at Emmett's late home during the day. The casket was lowered into the grave while the Mount Vernon band played softly the music Emmett had written that made him famous.

Two Ministers Are Suspended.

WILMINGTON, DEL., July 1.—The ministerial committee which tried the Rev. W. P. Corkran and the Rev. C. S. Greer of the Wilmington Methodist Episcopal conference on charges of indulging in stock speculations, today returned a verdict of guilty, and both were suspended until the next session of the conference, which will be held in March, 1905.

Successor of Archbishop Messmer.

MILWAUKEE, July 1.—It is officially announced that the Rt. Rev. Joseph J. Fox has been selected to succeed Archbishop Messmer as bishop of the diocese of Green Bay. Father Fox was in 1898 made domestic prelate, with the title of monsignor, by Pope Leo XIII. He is at present administrator of the diocese.

KNOX HONORED BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Invited to Cabinet Meeting, Although Outsider—New Members Take the Oath.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—All is in readiness at the White House for the departure of the president and his immediate office force for Oyster Bay, which will take place tomorrow.

The president will be accompanied by Secretary Loeb, Assistant Secretary Barnes, two stenographers, two messengers and a secret service guard. They will travel in a private car attached to the regular 10 a. m. Pennsylvania train. Jersey City will be reached at 2:40. A quick trip will be made across town and at Long Island city the president will go aboard the private car of President Baldwin, of the Long Island Railroad Company. He will arrive at his home town about 4:30 o'clock.

The citizens of the village have prepared to welcome him with anvils, bands and flag-armed school children.

President Roosevelt will remain at Oyster Bay until July 28, the day after the committee of notification calls to officially inform him that he is the standard bearer of his party for the coming campaign.

GEN. SPITZER INJURED.

Both Legs Broken as Result of Trolley Car Collision Near Battle Creek, Mich.

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., July 1.—In a rear end collision between a local and a limited car of the Jackson and Battle Creek Traction Company today, two miles west of Marshall, three persons were seriously injured and a score badly shaken up and bruised.

Gen. Celian M. Spitzer of Toledo, vice president of the road, was sitting in the front observation compartment of the limited car with two ladies. When he saw that a collision was inevitable he managed to hurry the ladies into the rear part of the car, but caught the full force of the crash himself. Both of Gen. Spitzer's legs were broken and he is injured internally.

Motorman Kelly of Albion, had both legs broken and is injured internally. E. E. Wilson a clerk at the Battle Creek sanitarium had his right leg broken.

Both cars were eastbound the limited car running 50 miles an hour. The local had stopped one motor after leaving Battle Creek and on the Bear Creek curve broke down entirely. A flagman was sent back to warn the limited which was following five minutes behind, but the second car was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision. The local was telescoped half of its length, but its dozen or more passengers got out before the collision.

NEARLY HALF A MILLION FROM LIQUOR LICENSES

County Treasurer Collingwood yesterday turned into the city treasury $495,136.52 liquor license fees, due as the city's share of the 550 licenses issued within the corporate limits. The money was at once deposited in the four city depositories.

More Vandalism at Fair.

ST. LOUIS, July 1.—An attempt has been made to wreck the great pipe organ, the largest in the world, in Festival hall at world's fair, by cutting the secondary bellows. This will not affect the working of the organ which can be operated with the primary bellows.

MORE THAN 9,000,000 NEGROES IN AMERICA

Census Bureau Issues a Bulletin on Black Population in the United States.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The census bureau today issued the final bulletin on the negro population of the United States. The number of negroes in the United States, including the entire area covered by the 12th census (continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii) and Porto Rico, is 9,204,531, perhaps a larger number than is found in any other country except Africa.

The report indicates that between 11 and 16 per cent of the negro population are believed by the enumerators to have some degree of white blood. The center of the negro population is in De Kalb county, Ala., about four miles from the western boundary of Georgia, having moved thence from Dinwiddie county, Va., 476 miles northeast, since 1790. Over 97 per cent of the negroes live in the country, against over 57 per cent of the whites. Almost 90 per cent of the negroes in the continental United States are in the southern states and three-tenths of them are in Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama.

Negroes constitute about one-fifteenth of the city population and about one-seventh of the country population of the continental United States. There was an increase among the negroes of 1,345,318, or 18 per cent in the continental United States, but the rate of increase declined steadily through the nineteenth century.

The negroes, unlike the Indians and the native whites, have a slight excess of females. Illiteracy among them is about seven times greater than the whites. There are 3,092,357 negroes in the United States engaged in gainful occupations. Their death rate approximates 30 per cent, while the whites under the same calculation is 17 per cent.

Negroes form one-third of the population in the south, both in cities and in country districts, while in the north they are about one-fortieth of the city and one-thirtieth of the population of country districts.

MRS. ELIAS LOCATES IN LONG BRANCH, N. J.

Sojourners at Seaside Resort Are Planning to Be Rid of Her.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 1.—Mrs. Elias has come. Notwithstanding the open objection of the neighborhood, the public meetings and demonstrations of disapproval, the woman whose name caused such an uproar in the exclusive colony, has arrived at the Van Note cottage. Last night another public indignation meeting was held attended only by women. No outsider was allowed admittance. At the same time the husband of Mrs. Elias had a quiet conference at the Bath Avenue club. At both places plans for getting Mrs. Elias out of the cottage were discussed.

Meanwhile Mrs. Elias, with her Japanese butler, Kato, and her two maids, is already having trouble. She can get no provisions unless she sends to New York for them. None of the cottagers will pass before her house or bathe in the waters in sight of it. Even the natives have joined in the campaign of ostracism and are looking the other way when Mrs. Elias drives by.

BURGLAR KILLS MINISTER.

Brother in Hollidaysburg, Pa., Offers Reward for Conviction of Murderer.

ALTOONA, PA., July 1.—George E. Mayne of Hollidaysburg today received a telegram announcing that his brother, Rev. Charles Mayne, pastor of the Methodist church at Nevada, Ia., had been shot and killed by a burglar Wednesday night. He immediately wired the chief of police at Nevada, offering $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

Rev. Mr. Mayne was 33 years old and a native of Ft. Littleton, Fulton county, Pa. He was graduated from Evanston college, Illinois, and for 15 years had been in the ministry. He was married a few months ago.

WOMEN PRAISE PE-RU-NA

For Diseases Peculiar to Their Sex There is No Medicine That Gives Such Universally Good Results.

The Actress and the Housewife Rely Upon Pe-ru-na.

Miss Zelma Rawlston, 8 W. 29th St., New York City, writes:

"For over a year I have used Peruna, and find it all you claim for it. I shall take great pleasure in recommending it to my professional friends."—Zelma Rawlston.

Peruna seems so admirably adapted to catarrhal troubles of women that it rarely fails to instantly relieve and promptly cure.

No sooner does a woman begin to take Peruna than she feels that a cure is in sight.

Sometimes it is necessary to take it for weeks and even months, but the good effect becomes apparent at once and gradually continues until a cure is perfected.

Pelvic catarrh is a phrase coined by Dr. Hartman, covering all that large class of diseases that used to be known as female weakness. The lower portion of the abdomen is called by anatomists the pelvis. The organs contained in this portion of the body are known as the pelvic organs. There are several of them, very delicate and very subject to catarrh. Few women escape entirely catarrh of these organs. While each case presents some minor difference as to detail, they are all in reality alike.

Pelvic catarrh, therefore, is a generic term that covers all cases of catarrh of the pelvic organs. There is no cure equal in promptness and permanency to a short course of Peruna.

Peruna does not relieve these cases by temporarily mitigating some symptom, but by a removal of the cause. Many a woman can testify that a local treatment does not permanently cure. A large multitude of women are constantly going from doctor to doctor to receive local treatment, with little or no result.

In Peruna these women find a prompt and permanent cure. Thousands upon thousands of testimonials to this effect are received by Dr. Hartman every year. The good that Peruna has accomplished in this class of cases can scarcely be overestimated.

Miss Mynne Barton, 221 Washington Ave., Madison, Wis., writes:

"I took Peruna for two months according to directions for cessation of the menses and found that it restored the natural functions of the system which had ceased on account of getting my feet wet and catching cold and which caused intense pains. It also toned up my system and made me feel much better and stronger, so that I feel in duty bound to say a good word for it. I shall cheerfully recommend it to my friends and am sure that they will all be pleased with the results, if it helps them as it did me."—Miss Mynne Barton.

STOLE A CIRCUS: SENT TO PRISON

Three Men, Accused of Robbing Alderman Walsh of His Pet, Wish Release.

WILL TELL SHOWMEN'S WOES

"Life in the Sawdust Ring, or the Story of the Stolen Circus," will be related in the hearing of the habeas corpus proceedings this morning in common pleas court No. 2 instituted by Lew and William Grant and George McKee. All the vicissitudes of the itinerant show will be laid before the judges in a narration that bristles with revolvers, mysterious journeys by night and seances in offices of justices of the peace.

The three men are in jail charged with larceny. It is alleged they took a circus from the center pole to stakes and decamped with it.

The circus is the one in which Alderman W. F. Walsh became active in the management, although in the spring he had no dream that he would be in the circus business during the season. And he regrets that he did get in it for at present he is under $3,500 bail for court on five charges of larceny and one each of carrying concealed weapons and pointing firearms and has also 28 wage claims against him.

Alderman Paid Its Debts.

The circus was brought to Pittsburgh ready to begin the season by Grimsley and Hibbs and they called it Seitz Bros. Shows. The management was bad, one of the firm getting drunk and landing in jail charged with assault, and entered the sawdust ring by liquidating a number of debts, taking a bill of sale for the circus and paraphernalia in return. With the circus on his hands and the performers idle, he went to work and put it into operation, looking after things himself.

On May 25 last he had an opportunity to unburden himself of the undertaking and he arranged a sale of the outfit to W. E. Sproat. The alderman claims that Sproat's agreement only entitled him to the circus after certain payments had been made, which it is alleged he failed to make.

It is also alleged he permitted wage claims and debts to accumulate. About June 16 it is alleged Sproat began imbibing and neglecting business.

Show Had Disappeared.

One day the alderman asked him where the show was and he replied it was on Mount Washington. But it wasn't and the alderman learned that the three men in jail and Charles Grant and Joseph Smith, who constituted a considerable portion of the artistic and working force, had packed the show snugly in its wagon and had moved off quietly in the night as circuses do.

The alderman declared he had been robbed of his show and immediately took up the trail. On June 20, two days later, he caught up with the show at De Haven, on the P. & W. railroad. Angry scenes followed and good old canvas talk was indulged in when the alderman demanded his show. On reaching the show in the evening the alderman telephoned for a number of teams, which he purchased from his brother's (John E. Walsh) estate.

These joined him during the night. He built a big fire in the woods and surrounded by his teamsters camped at De Haven during the night.

Walsh Enters Suit.

At 6 o'clock the next morning he detached the opposition and hitching to the circus, brought it back to Pittsburgh. During the night he made information charging larceny before Justice of the Peace Clark of De Haven and one of the circus men was arrested.

With the circus released from them the Grants and their associates went to Millvale and entered 28 wage claims against Walsh before Justice of the Peace A. J. Needling. They also charged him five times with larceny, it being alleged that in carrying away the outfit he had also carried off some of their wearing apparel which was in the wagons. At the same time Walsh was busy and when he went for a hearing before Needling, expecting that the men would be there, he was armed with warrants for five of them. When he attempted to serve them he claims he was met with resistance and drew a revolver.

This was promptly followed by the charges of carrying and pointing firearms made against him. He gave bail on all the charges and then placed the men in jail. Chas. Grant and Joseph Smith subsequently obtained bail. It is alleged the men intended taking the show to Ellwood, where some of them live.

While the litigation is in progress the circus outfit is lying in a lot on Duquesne Heights looking forlorn and very much abandoned. Walsh says he doesn't care who hitches to it now and tries to show.

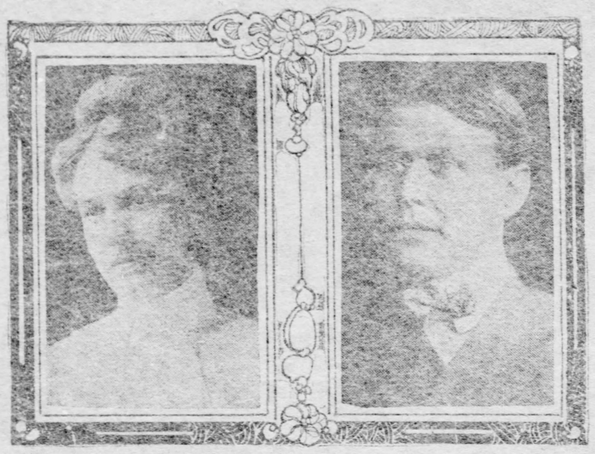
Woman Killed by Lightning.

WOOSTER, O., July 1.—(Special.)—Mrs. Lizzie Hugclet, living on a farm near this city, while in the act of cutting bread this evening was struck by lightning and killed. Her husband, who was in the barn 200 feet from the house was rendered senseless by the bolt and three steers just outside the stable were killed.

Passing Train Killed Brakeman.

HUNTINGDON, PA., July 1.—Charles E. Weber of Harrisburg, a brakeman on an eastbound freight train, was killed at Mt. Union this afternoon. He had stepped down from his train and was caught by a passing passenger train. His body was ground to atoms.

CITY CLERK IS TO WED BELLE OF KENTUCKY FEUD SECTION



ELIZABETH M. GOUGER. HARVEY B. DAVIS.

The culmination of a pretty romance, in which Harvey Burtt Davis, one of the city clerks of Pittsburgh, is a principal, will take place next Tuesday in the heart of the feud district of Kentucky. Mr. Davis left for Kentucky last night and on July 5 he will lead to the altar Miss Elizabeth Maugaret Gouger, of Flat Lick and a belle of Knox county, in the Bluegrass state.

Miss Gouger was visiting relatives in Washington, D. C., three years ago when she met her future husband, who was then employed with a business firm in that city. A fast friendship was contracted there which some time afterward ripened into love. Miss Gouger is the daughter of Mrs. Martha Knox Gouger, and is a native of North Carolina, in which state her family is well known. Some time ago she went to Kentucky to make her home with her sister, Mrs. G. E. Cecil, the wife of a prominent physician.

Knox county, where the wedding is to take place, is in the center of a district where a bitter feud has been waging for years. Every male inhabitant of this section, and even many women, go about continually armed and on his visits to his affianced Mr. Davis has always been equipped with a brace of duelling pistols for any emergency. Before leaving yesterday he purchased and armed himself with a handsome revolver. Miss Gouger is a beautiful woman, 22 years of age, and like many southern girls, is an excellent horsewoman and a fine shot.

HENRY PHIPPS' AUTO DESTROYED BY FIRE

The Prank of a Boy Caused Disaster on a New York Thoroughfare.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 1.—The $10,000 touring car of Henry Phipps, the Pittsburgh millionaire, was destroyed by fire today; all traffic was delayed in Seventh avenue 15 minutes, the engines had to be called out, and 10,000 persons were treated to a brilliant display of pyrotechnics, all because of a mischevious boy's pranks.

Mr. Phipps' motor car was in front of a factory at No. 149 Seventh avenue. It began leaking and the gasoline stream wended its way a block below. No one knew anything of the mishap to the auto except the boy who was at Thirty-eighth streets. Striking a match, he touched the head of the stream of gasoline. A large flame shot up the avenue. The fire reached a steady height of about a yard all along the 200 feet and finally reached the auto tank. There was a loud explosion and parts of the automobile shot high in the air. The broad faced youth at Thirty-eighth street was then seen to take to his heels.

The loud report of the explosion aroused the workmen in the auto factory. They rushed out of the place armed with extinguishers and buckets, and firemen were summoned. So great and dense was the throng that gathered that the trolley cars were blocked until the firemen had extinguished the blazing auto.

JEWISH LEADERS PREPARE PLANS

Excellent Program for Chautauqua Which Opens at Atlantic City, July 10.

TO HAVE SUMMER SCHOOL

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 1.

Eloquent speakers and prominent educators from all over the United States will attend the opening of the eighth summer assembly of the Jewish Chautauqua in this city, on Sunday, July 10. The headquarters of the Chautauqua will be in the new assembly hall of the Royal Palace hotel, while many of the sessions of the summer school and the seminary will be held in the synagogue, Pennsylvania and Pacific avenues.

The Chautauqua will consist of popular lectures and conference courses in educational work and literary and musical entertainments. In addition to the well-known Hebrew leaders and teachers who will be here, Rear Admiral George W. Melville, U. S. N., will deliver a lecture on "Arctic Explorations." Under the supervision of Prof. Max Margolis of the University of California and Dr. S. Schechter, director of the Jewish Theological seminary of New York, a summer school will be organized.

A Hebrew class will be conducted by Gerson B. Levi, director of the Hebrew department of the Jewish Chautauqua society. Some of the speakers are: Prof. Max Margolis, University of California; Chancellor Henry Berowitz of Philadelphia, Rabbi Abram Simon of Washington, Rabbi Edward N. Calisch of Richmond, Dr. Daniel Phillipson of Cincinnati.

The largest crowd ever attended an opening game was present this afternoon to look over the team gotten together here. The players were all warmly received and put up a snappy game. Boucher, the new shortstop, who hails from Manhattan college, played a star fielding game and Phillippe, who pitched the first three innings, did not allow a hit to be made off his puzzling shoots. "Whitey" Schoenhut and Dick Smith made home runs. Hackett, Huston and McGrillis carried off the honors for the visitors. Tomorrow the Philadelphia professionals will play here and will have their star battery, McCusker and Fox, in the points. Jack McFetridge and Allman will perform for the locals.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Weiss and Mr. and Mrs. M. Sadler are staying at the Isleworth.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cann and J. F. Cann are guests at the Iroquois.

Sherwal Donnell has apartments at the Marlborough.

T. M. Jacob is spending a short time at the Pierpont.

Mrs. S. A. Fletcher, D. W. Fletcher and Miss Fletcher are staying at the Ralston.

Miss Fannie Oviatt is a guest at the Runnymede.

J. E. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Corwin and F. Birch were noticed on the boardwalk today.

S. D. Clark, Jr., is at the Grand Atlantic.

A party of Pittsburghers at Green's hotel are Mrs. Patterson, W. J. Patterson, G. C. Reiter and W. S. Navy.

Mrs. Frank J. Wallace will leave for Pittsburgh Monday.

Mrs. J. L. Dixon is spending the week at the Strand.

E. J. McCullough is spending a short time at the Southern.

Miss Elsie Wainwright, Miss Cora Wainwright and Miss Adelaide Price, are at the Wiltshire.

Miss Noble and Mrs. F. N. Jackson are registered at the Jackson.

Cuban Treaty Effective.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Secretary Hay and Minister Quesada today exchanged ratifications of the permanent treaty between America and Cuba embodying the Platt amendment.

TELEPHONE OPERATOR KILLED ON RAILROAD

Miss Olive Philips Decapitated by a Train—A Homesick Woman Kills Herself.

Miss Olive Philips, aged 17, telephone operator at Castle Shannon, was decapitated and her body badly mutilated by a train near Castle Shannon yesterday morning. The girl was going to work and while passing under another railroad bridge upon which a train was running, she failed to notice the approach of the train which ran her down. She was a daughter of Allen Philips of Grove station.

Mrs. Lizzie Zumbi, a young Slav woman, hanged herself in the cellar of her home, 455 Fourth avenue, Homestead, yesterday. She came to Pittsburgh from the old country about two months ago to marry John Zumbi. Homesickness is thought to have caused her to take her life. When her body was found in the morning her husband tried to kill himself.

While helping a neighbor to move in Third avenue, Homestead, yesterday, Andrew Staiasko, aged 30, a Slav, fell from the furniture on a wagon and broke his neck.

Forest Craig, who was shot by Officer Robert Harper at Coraopolis during a raid on an alleged speakeasy last Saturday night, died of his wounds yesterday at his home in Coraopolis. Craig was shot while attempting to escape from the house. Officer Harper, who has been in jail since Monday, alleges he fired in the air to bring Craig to a halt.

William Ward, aged 26, employed at the National Tube plant in McKeesport, was killed yesterday by a wagon falling upon him. He was loading it when the accident occurred.

Lucian Lynch, aged 51, a painter, was found dead in a barn on Brierly farm, near Lincoln place, yesterday morning. Heart disease caused death. He was a brother of George Lynch, assistant superintendent of the paint plant of the Standard Oil company in New York.

M. Hendrick, aged 26, of 665 Lookout avenue, died yesterday. It is alleged he took phenol while despondent.

Value of Washington County Property.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 1.—(Special.)—The county commissioners have completed the revision of the triennial assessment for Washington county and the totals have been compiled. The value of all property taxable for county purposes is $83,697,578. The value of real estate taxable is $79,620,126, and of occupations $2,688,935. The people of Washington county own 15,278 horses, which are valued at $987,937, or an average of $64 65, and 15,047 cows, valued at $886,580, or an average of $25 70. The value of real estate exempt from taxation is $3,690,855. The number of acres of cleared land is 453,752, and of timber land 39,470, making a total acreage of 495,261. The number of taxables is 29,759. The amount of money at interest is $9,809,195.

No Money for Vatican Embassy.

PARIS, July 1.—The budget committee of the chamber of deputies voted today for the suppression of the appropriation for the French embassy at the Vatican, and also passed a resolution, which will be incorporated in the committee and reported to the chamber, censuring Premier Combes for his refusal to express views of the government on the subject.

Two Fell From Scaffold.

Nels Norcus, aged 39, and Harry Jeffries, aged 14, were injured by their walking of a scaffold on which they were working in Amity street, Homestead, yesterday. Norcus was painting the home of Burgess W. Shaler Ross and was assisted by Jeffries. The scaffold on which they were standing broke and both were thrown 30 feet.

Bond Issue Is Recommended.

The finance committee of McKeesport councils last night decided to report favorably to councils an issue of $350,000 worth of bonds, the money from which to be used as follows: Filtration plant, $150,000; new city hall, $100,000; poor farm, $30,000; main sewer system, $70,000. The date for the bond election was fixed as December 20.

TO DIVE FROM BRIDGE.

Speedy, the Swimmer, Will Take a Header Into the Monongahela River.

Kearney P. Speedy, the high diver, who jumps from the top of a perpendicular ladder 125 feet high, has announced he will jump off the South Tenth street bridge before leaving Pittsburgh. The police intend preventing him performing the feat if they can, but Speedy claims he does not intend to commit suicide, and for that reason they have no jurisdiction over what he does.

"If I want to commit suicide," said Speedy, "the police cannot stop me. They never do stop people taking their own lives. What they do is haul bodies to the morgue after the excitement is over. I will jump off the bridge and the only way to stop me jumping in the river is to be under the bridge and catch me."

Speedy jumped off the Point bridge the last time he was in Pittsburgh and swam ashore without any assistance. He is now making two dives daily off the 125-foot high ladder, which he claims is more dangerous than to jump off a bridge. From the ladder he must plunge into a tank six feet square, but off the bridge the area is not limited.

Other attractions at the South Side carnival being held in Wabash park are equally interesting and hazardous. The loop-the-loop, the acts of Capt Laurence the wild beast trainer, and the slack rope and trapeze acts are dangerous and exciting.

EXPLOSION ON LAUNCH, TWO KILLED, FIVE HURT

ST. PAUL, MINN., July 1.—As the result of injuries sustained in the explosion of a gasoline tank on a pleasure launch at Lake Minnetonka, George L. Upton, a society leader and clubman, and his wife are dead, and five others, including Llewellyn Christian, father of Mrs. Upton, are painfully burned. Mr. Christian, who is prominent in the flour milling business, was entertaining a party on his launch, when from some unknown cause the explosion occurred.

Pittsburghers are Elected.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 1.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Colored Industrial school of this city was held last night and the following officers were chosen: President, George W. Kincaid; vice president, Dr. W. D. Clinton, Pittsburgh; second vice president, Dr. D. S. Scott, Philadelphia; treasurer, Peter M. Doup, New Castle; secretary, G. W. Johnson, Pittsburgh; superintendent, the Rev. C. P. Hurston; directors, Murry A. Verner, W. C. Lawton, Judge William D. Wallace, J. K. Dean, G. W. Gates, Bishop J. S. Caldwell, William T. Baker and J. W. Lee. From various cities during the year $1,447 was received for the support of the school.

Bingham Retires as General.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—President Roosevelt today directed the appointment of Col. Theodore A. Bingham as a brigadier general. The appointment is to take effect on July 6, when Gen. Bingham will retire. Col. Bingham, who was for many years superintendent of public buildings and grounds in this city, was recently badly injured while superintending the erection of harbor improvements at Buffalo so that his continuance in active service in the army was rendered impossible.

Cutting Down the Cost.

The sub-committee of the prison board, which has been considering the jail contract specifications, has completed its work and will report at the meeting of the board today. The committee in going over the details of the improvement cut out a number of items and made modifications that will result in a general reduction of the cost. It will be necessary to submit the changes to the architect before the exact difference in the cost will be known.

Panama Accepts Currency Plan.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(Special.)—Secretary Hay was today informed that the Panama congress had formally adopted the isthmian currency plan agreed upon between representatives of Panama and of the United States, in Washington several weeks ago. Slight modifications were made to meet local conditions. The chief coin of this currency will be called the balboa, in honor of the Spanish explorer. John Barrett, minister to Panama, took leave of Secretary Hay today. He will sail from New York for Colon next Wednesday.

Building Submarine for Russia.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., July 1.—(Special.)—From letters received, it is learned that John Wilson, is to assist in ground building Holland submarine boats for Russia at yards nearby. Wilson left Perth Amboy four months ago. Wilson says little about his work in Russia. Elihu B. Frost, treasurer and general manager of the Holland Torpedo Boat Company, admitted to a reporter that Wilson was sent to Russia by the Holland company, but he refused to go into details.

Banks Declare Dividends.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 1.—(Special.)—The Citizens National bank of Washington today declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent, or $8,000, on its capital of $200,000. There was added to the surplus $25,000, making it $675,000. The Union Trust Company has declared a dividend of 1 per cent of the earnings of the past three months. The Washington Trust Company has added $40,000 to the surplus out of the earnings of the past six months, making the surplus now $440,000.

One More Drink Was Costly.

Angelo Deluch, a McKeesport foreigner about to leave for his home across the ocean yesterday, was compelled to pay a fine of $10 and a doctor's bill of $7. He placed his family and baggage on a train and then ran to a nearby saloon. While there he assaulted William Nolan with a club. His family is now in New York awaiting him. Deluch had the tickets and took a train east.

PITTSBURGH PASTOR GRAWS ENTHUSIASM

Focuses Eyes of Delegates to N. Y. P. U. at St. Joseph Upon Joseph W. Folk.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. JOSEPH, July 1.—The fame of Joseph W. Folk, the St. Louis circuit attorney and boodler prosecutor, was loudly cheered at today's session of the Young People's Christian union. The Rev. H. H. Martin of Pittsburgh made an address, in which he said:

"There is a man in this state of whom the world's manhood is justly proud, and he is the product of a common, vital faith. Of Americans this man is among the bravest and boldest. If the corruption he uncovered is Missouri's shame, the man who had the courage to lift the lid from a malodorous iniquity is Missouri's glory. Other states possess as deep a guilt, as black a stain, as base a treachery against the public trust, but they have not as yet manifested that they hold within their borders a man of his stature and moral power."

He said Missouri owns in Mr. Folk a king, and he believes that this people possess the righteous convictions which will give him a crown and throne. In closing, he dramatically exclaimed:

"Hail to the man whom no one owns but God!"

Throughout the address the speaker was interrupted by deafening applause.

WORKMAN FATALLY SHOT BY HIS EMPLOYER

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 1.—(Special.)—John O'Hare, a carpenter, who was working on the house of James Pendergast, was fatally shot by the latter this morning following a dispute over a pair of hinges. Pendergast's wife tried to stop him and he attempted to knock her down.

Building to be Accepted.

Anxiety as to whether the new $20,000 borough building at Avalon will be accepted by council has been partially set at rest. It is said the architect will approve the construction of the building and that council will accept the work. Preparations are being made for the dedication of the building in conjunction with a celebration of the thirteenth anniversary of Avalon as a borough.

Woman Burned by Explosion.

Mrs. Edward Ritter of Braddock avenue, Rankin, was fatally burned by explosion of natural gas in the kitchen range of her home yesterday. The gas had been turned on and when she placed a match in the stove an explosion completely wrecked the stove and blew into the yard. The flames set fire to her hair and she was burned on the face, head and arms.

Our greatest summer shirt sale

IS now in progress. Yesterday's shirt selling broke all records. From store-opening until store-closing time throngs of men (and women, too) crowded the tables in the main aisle—and the counters in our men's furnishing department. Most men bought them by the half dozens—many bought a dozen and even more. Purchasers of a single shirt was a rarity. Everybody gave expression to their wonderment concerning the extraordinariness of the bargains. Never has anyone heard of such a shirt sale—never has anyone seen so many shirts on sale at one price at one time—never has anyone seen such high grade shirts at such a low price. Think of 59c buying new, perfect summer shirts—such well known brands as

Quaker City, Dauntless, Eagle, Columbia, Faultless and Merion

59c —shirts that sell regularly for $2.50, $2, $1.50 and $1. Do you wonder that the town's agog over this sale—do you wonder that thirty or more salesfolks are kept busy from 8 in the morning until 5:30 P. M. handing them out? Every style and character of shirt is embraced—all sorts of materials from plain white to the most exclusive novelties—and all sizes from 13½ to 18. 59c

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Cincinnati at Exposition park.
Boston at New York.
Brooklyn at Philadelphia.
Chicago at St. Louis.

The weather man put an end to any attempt on the part of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati teams to play a game yesterday afternoon, by turning on a small sized deluge just before it was time for the faithful to assemble at the park, and the downpour left the playing field in such shape that a game was out of the question. The teams will meet this afternoon, weather permitting, and the pitchers will be Lynch for the Pirates and Harper for the Reds.

Joe Kelly and his Reds got in from Oil City about noon yesterday, but Harper was not with them, having missed the morning train. The Reds did not make many friends up the river, as the Franklin people are sore over being cheated out of a full game, the teams playing only one hour, while all Oil City knows the arrangement of that team is kicking over the Reds scheduling a game at Franklin, thus hurting their patronage. The Reds are a bit crippled, as Tommy Corcoran is laid up with a strained arm and back as a result of a collision with Steinfeldt in last Sunday's game, and Woodruff, the utility player, will be off his place. Kelley is full of confidence regarding today's game, but in that respect he has nothing on Fred Clarke, who refuses to say anything but a victory.

Yesterday's game will be played off either on August 1 or September 8. St. Louis has a better claim to the earlier date, but if it does not want to play Cincinnati will gobble the 8th.

Joe Berg expects to have Deacon Phillippe in shape to work against Chicago here on July 4. Phil's health is good now, and all that ails him is a slight inflammation of the right eye, but he hopes to be able to discard his blue glasses before Independence day.

Sam Leever reported last night that his right elbow is free from pain and his shoulder seems much better. "Last night was the first time in more than eight months that I was able to sleep without keeping my arm above my head. Heretofore that was the only way I could get any relief from the pain," said the pitcher. Leever hopes to be able to take his turn on the Cincinnati Sunday, day after against Chicago here July 4.

Flaherty and Lynch, both of whom were troubled for a few days with sore arms, say they are now ready for work. The cheerful news from the pitchers made Manager Clarke smile. "In Phillippe, Leever, Miller, Lynch, Flaherty, and Camnitz in reserve, we have as good a staff as any team possesses, and if we get them all working right for our long stay at home this month we should improve our standing," said he.

Clarke will be in the game today. His leg, which was injured at Chicago, is much improved. Bransfield's finger is still stiff, but the infielders are so eager to have the regular at the initial corner that he may get in today. He cannot grip a bat properly.

Arrangements have been made for chairs on the field in front of the grand stand for the overflow in the event of good weather next Monday. The only reserved seats will be in the boxes, tickets for which are now on sale. Many parties are coming from nearby towns. Today's game will begin at 3 o'clock. The morning game of July 4 will start at 10:30 and the afternoon game at 3.

WILL MEET TODAY.

Irish Lad and Ort Welles to Figure it out at Sheepshead.

NEW YORK, July 1.—(Special.)—Irish Lad and Ort Welles will fight it out again tomorrow in the Commonwealth stakes. The Picket, too, will go, and Water Boy and Highball may start as well. Irish Lad was given a final trial for the race today. The time of the trial was 2:08 3-5.

The horses coiled out nicely and Rogers was well pleased with the trial. The weight carried was about 114 pounds. No blinkers or sweat wear will they be used in the race. Irish Lad will be allowed to race off in front, and will be master of the situation for the first mile at least.

"Jim" Ganiear Joins Waynesburg.

WAYNESBURG, PA., July 1.—(Special.)—After five innings the Waynesburg-Monongahela game was called on account of rain, with the score 4 to 1 in favor of the locals. Callahan was out of the game, with a sore finger. Sellers going to left and Ganiear holding down middle garden. "Kid" Williams and Brown of Indiana reported to Manager Kobert last night. McCleary and Cree have been released. Score:

Yale Practiced at Home.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., July 1.—(Special.)—Yale's baseball nine planned to go to New York today and practice on the Polo grounds for tomorrow's game, but rain made Captain Winslow decide to work the batters here in light drills. The team left at 5 o'clock tonight for New York. Don McRae will pitch tomorrow, and Yale is confident of winning.

YALE WON THE VARSITY RACE

Harvard Victory in Four-Oared Event Was a Shallow One, Due to an Accident.

STORY OF THE RACES

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW LONDON, CONN., July 1.—It was the same old story on the Thames this morning, Yale first and the Harvard crew practically nowhere, being beaten by seven lengths over the four-mile course in rather slow time.

Harvard, it is true, captured the four-oared race earlier in the morning, but there was little glory in the victory, as Stuyvesant Fish, Jr., who was rowing No. 2 in the Yale shell, smashed his outrigger 20 lengths from the finish line, when the New Haven crew was a length ahead and apparently had the race well in hand.

The many postponements of the big race had a depressing effect on the spectators and scarcely 5,000 persons witnessed it. There was little enthusiasm and practically none of the customary cheering which is generally one of the features of this particular aquatic function.

So far as the big varsity race is concerned, little can be said except that Yale's early lead almost from the crack of the pistol. They were half a length to the good in the first half mile, and, rowing easily, steadily increased their advantage to the finish, winning by a good seven lengths. Yale's time was 21:41½ and Harvard 22:07, or one minute 31½ seconds slower than the record, which is 20:10.

The four-oared race, which took place earlier in the morning, furnished far better sport, but as no observation train followed the crews, only about a score of people outside of the officials saw the race.

As most of the out-of-town crowd had returned to their homes after yesterday's many postponements, the observation trains were out in half, and instead of the 60 cars which were required on Thursday, barely 20 were needed today.

At 11:16 the crews jumped off to a beautiful start. Almost before the echo of the referee's pistol had died away the nose of the Yale shell slowly began to creep ahead. Both crews started off at 34 strokes to the minute and at the half-mile post Yale, still keeping up a 34 clip, was half a length ahead. The Harvard stroke had dropped to 32 a minute, while her style was very much on the order of Cornell.

Yale drew further ahead, and soon there was clear water between the two boats. As they swept by the mile post Yale, rowing 33 strokes to the minute, was a good length and a half ahead, while Harvard still kept pegging away at an even 32. Nothing separated the crews at the two-mile post off the navy yard, and Yale, rowing easily, lowered her stroke to 31.

At the two and a half mile mark the New Haven eight was three and a half lengths ahead, while at the three-mile post Harvard was fully five lengths to the bad and dropping further and further behind. It was a procession, not a race, though the boys in blue did a little splashing near the three and a half mile post, when they hit their stroke up to 33. Duffy, No. 7, and Smith, who was rowing No. 2 in the Harvard shell, were also showing the effect of the strain, but they responded to Coxswain Chase's call for a final spurt in the last half mile, when the crimson crew hit it up to 34.

It made little difference, however, as the Yale crew, rowing easily, swept over the finish line the winner of a one-sided and uninteresting race by seven lengths. Time, Yale, 21:41½; Harvard, 22:07.

The four-oared varsity race, which preceded the main event, was started at the navy yard at 9:42, and the crews finished at Red Top. Just before the crews were called to the line Swain, No. 3 of the Harvard crew, collapsed from nervous exhaustion, and his place was taken by Bowditch, who had never rowed in the position before.

Yale took the lead at the start, and was a few feet ahead at the half. At the mile she was leading by a length, which she increased to about two lengths at the mile and a half post.

About an eighth of a mile from the finish Harvard had reduced Yale's lead to about a length, when Fish, No. 2 in the New Haven crew, caught a crab and missed a stroke or two. When he tried to resume rowing he found that he had broke his outrigger, and his oar was useless. With only three men rowing, and Fish a passenger, the Harvard crew drew up even within 10 strokes of the finish line and won by half a length. Time, Harvard, 19:12; Yale, 19:15.

East Liverpool Is Shut Out.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 1.—(Special.)—Rain stopped the Sharon-East Liverpool game in the seventh inning today. East Liverpool having two men on bases with one man down. Clearly and Winters were equally effective, but the former had better support. Score:

East Liverpool	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	—2	3	1

Brooklyn Sunday Ball Stopped.

NEW YORK, July 1.—There will be no baseball played in Brooklyn next Sunday. An order to this effect was issued today by Police Commissioner McAdoo to Deputy Commissioner Farrell of Brooklyn. On previous Sundays only the battery of the offending baseball teams was arrested. The order issued today, however, calls for the arrest of not only the members of both teams, but the score card sellers and the umpire as well, shall be placed under arrest if any attempt is made to play.

McClelland and Briggs to Meet.

BAY CITY, MICH., July 1.—(Special.)—Jack McClelland's manager today received word that Eddie Hanlon had once more refused to meet the Pittsburgher. Hanlon had wired that he would fight him on July 14, but now refuses. So the West End club of St. Louis has secured Jimmy Briggs of Boston instead. McClelland worked hard today for his fight here with Young Kid McCoy on July 4, after which he will train here for the Briggs fight.

SPRING SCHEDULES END WITH TODAY'S CONTESTS

Westmoreland Country Club Goes Out of Existence and Oakmont Gets Its Players.

Spring schedules of the local golf clubs will practically have been concluded with the events arranged for July 4. There remains a few postponed team matches in the W. P. G. A. series and they will be played next week. With the close of the season the Westmoreland Country club, located at Loeans Ferry, will go out of existence, most of its members having already affiliated themselves with the new Oakmont Country club.

Rivals Adjust Differences.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., July 1.—The differences which have existed between the naval and military academies as to the adoption of eligibility rules governing the composition of the football teams for the annual game between Annapolis and West Point have been adjusted. In substance it is as follow: "It is to continue for three years unless dissolved by mutual consent. The date of the game shall be the Saturday following Thanksgiving day. No cadet or midshipman who has been a member of the team of one of the forty leading institutions which supports a football team and of its academy four years in the aggregate, shall be eligible to play on the team of his academy."

HOLDS BOTH TITLES.

Willie Anderson Adds Western Golf Championship to His National Honor.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., July 1.—Willie Anderson, golf professional at Apawamis, N. Y., holds both national and western open championship titles. In a sensational finish of the western event at the Kent country club's links this afternoon Anderson gained the western title from the holder, Alexander Smith of Nassau, totaled 304 for the 72-hole competition and reduced the course record to 73. Smith had to be satisfied with 308 and runner up honors.

Nearly all doubt that the national champion would again take western golfing honors he won at Cleveland in 1902 with a total of 290 was dissipated at the end of the third round, when Anderson had a lead of one stroke over Smith. To get up close to Anderson Smith had to set a record for the course—75. This mark remained until former Champion Lawrence Aichterione of Glenview, in the afternoon round, came like a meteor of third water and set the record at 74 by holing a long putt for a brilliant three on the home green. A few moments later Anderson, narrowly missing a three on the green, holed in four and clipped the record to 73.

It was a memorable day in western golf, begun with a cold, northwest wind sweeping the links and concluded with the sun pouring its rays upon the "hill climbers." Twenty-eight professionals and four amateurs began the tourney and 28 finished the two-day journey. It was one of the most successful tournaments ever held by the Western Golf association. Two amateurs remained to the end in the contest for the gold and silver medals, R

SOCIETY

ONE of the prettiest of the many pretty homes in Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, received its formal house warming yesterday afternoon, when Miss Margaret Nelson and Miss Julia Nelson received from 2 o'clock until 6. They were assisted by Mrs. Alfred E. Clarke, Mrs. James Boggs and Miss Nellie Stewart, who compose a congenial house party being entertained this week. Miss Margaret Nelson yesterday wore black and white crepe de chine and lace and Miss Julia Nelson appeared in a dainty gown of white India lawn, a souvenir of her stay in Canton, China, where she spent some time during her trip around the world, from which she and her sister returned a year ago.

They took possession of their new home in April. The house, with its broad porch, stands on a terrace. Pink roses adorned the dainty little pink and white drawing room with its soft silken hangings. The dining room, with walls of red and finished in English oak, was decorated with red roses. A cluster of crimson blossoms with trailing maidenhair fern, occupied the center of the oak table. The table is a feature of the room, having around its edge a broad wreath of carving.

Of great interest to the guests was the Japanese room on the second floor. White and purple fleur-de-lis were tastefully arranged in this apartment, which is fitted up entirely with Japanese curios. An immense cabinet of teak wood occupies almost the entire space at one end, and on its shelves are tiny ivory figurettes and idols. On the opposite side of the room is a smaller cabinet, the front of which is panelled with Japanese paintings, each having in one corner the signature of the artist. The hangings are of embroidered Japanese silk, the walls are covered with Japanese leather paper and the ceiling has a Japanese design. The center of the bookcase is filled with curios brought from foreign lands by the two travelers, one of the handsomest articles in the room is a large Japanese screen lacquered in ivory. A studio will soon be fitted up on the third floor.

Mr. and Mrs. Sorg in Lakewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Sorg left Pittsburgh yesterday for Lakewood, N. Y., where they have taken a cottage for the summer. The cottage is equally distant from that occupied by Mrs. Sorg's parents, Major and Mrs. William Perris Ault of Fifth avenue, and the one occupied by Mr. Sorg's mother, Mrs. Clara Sorg of Middletown, O.

Over a dozen young people will go from Pittsburgh to Lakewood tomorrow to remain over the Fourth. In the party will be a number of the attendants at the wedding of Miss Ault and Paul A. Sorg, among them Charles Ault, a brother of the bride, who was one of the ushers. The out-of-town bridesmaids with the exception of Miss Daisy Koon of Mannington, W. Va., are still in the city and will be members of the Lakewood party, several of whom will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Sorg, too others stopping at the Kent house. Miss Edith Speer, who was one of the bridesmaids, has just returned from Atlantic City, where she went shortly after the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Sorg returned from their wedding trip to attend the marriage of Miss Jeannette Hartley Nicholson and John Raymond Price on Tuesday, and have since occupied apartments at the Schenley. Major and Mrs. Ault with their niece, Miss Margaret Chalfant, expect to go up to Lakewood to open their cottage on Monday. Mrs. Clara Sorg and her daughter, Miss Ada Sorg, will remain in Middletown until after the Fourth.

Luncheon for Miss Paul.

One of the most enjoyable of the early summer entertainments in Oakmont was the porch luncheon and card party at which Mrs. Clarence P. Tiers was hostess yesterday. The guest of honor was Miss Alice K. Paul, whose engagement to Clarence V. Tiers, a nephew of the hostess, was recently announced. Forty guests were present at 1 o'clock, being the hour set for the luncheon which preceded the luncheon at 1 o'clock. The three pretty prizes went to Mrs. Thomas P. Henderson, Mrs. J. T. Denniston and Mrs. J. D. Nicholson. The porch was prettily decorated with clusters of field daisies and as favors at the luncheon there was a single pink rose at each place.

The guests included Miss Paul, Miss Mary Lee Paul, Miss Susan Paul, Miss Pat Tiers, Miss Margaret Tiers, Mrs. La Rue Tiers, Miss Susan Tiers, Mrs. Charles Dabney, Miss Page Dabney, Mrs. Gustava Mueller, Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mrs. Arthur Vining Davis, Mrs. C. Arensberg, Miss Edith Arensberg, Mrs. Orlando Metcalf, Miss Elsie Metcalf, Mrs. William Wilson and Mrs. John Wilson of Parnassus, Miss Grace Runnette and Miss Margaret Watson of the East End, Miss Mary Mills, Mrs. Mrs. J. R. Johnston, Mrs. George Macrum, Mrs. J. M. Hamilton, Mrs. William H. Cooper, Mrs. T. P. Henderson, Mrs. J. T. Denniston and Mrs. J. D. Nicholson.

A Knoxville Pastor Will Wed.

The marriage of Miss Mildred E. Mingins of Madison, N. J., and the Rev. Paul Wevand, pastor of Mrs. Knox's church, Christ Episcopal church of Pittsburgh, will take place at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, July 19, in the First Presbyterian church of Metuchen, N. J. The Rev. Dr. James A. Mason, pastor of the church, and an intimate friend of the family of the bride, will officiate. Dr. Frederick A. Hartung of Brooklyn, an Allegheny college friend of Mr. Wevand, will be best man, and Miss Irene Mingins, maid of honor. Miss Florence Byrd and Miss Florence Earl, who attended the New Jersey State Normal school in Trenton with the bride, Miss Pitcairn Watt of Oakmont and Miss Blanche Weyand of Beaver will be the bridesmaids. The ushers will be Eugene Adams McKelvy of Pittsburgh, a cousin of Mr. Wevand; J. V. Thompson of the faculty of the Morristown school, James Gilbert Mason, Princeton '06, of Matuchen, and E. P. Kuhn of Beaver. After August 1 Mr. and Mrs. Weyand will be at home at 305 Miller street, Knoxville, Pittsburgh.

House Party in Erie.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pitcairn Watt will chaperone a party of 40 young people today to Erie, where they will become members of a house party to be entertained by Mrs. David Milne Watt of Dithridge street in honor of her daughter, Miss Margaret Watt, and her son, James Watt. In the party will be Miss Jane Torrance, Miss Marguerite Smith, Miss Mabel Gillespie, Miss Marguerite Mashey, Miss Louise Evans and Miss Jane Sloan. Many of the girls are St. Margaret schoolmates of Miss Watt, and the young men in the party are friends of James Watt.

The house where the party will be entertained is one which Mrs. Watt and her family have occupied for several summers in Erie.

Returned from the West.

Moritz Werner of Saxony, Germany, who has been traveling with his nieces, Miss Katie Werner and Miss Annie Werner of this city, in the south and west, is now in Pittsburgh, where he is being entertained by his brother, Oswald Werner of North Highland avenue. Mr. Werner and his nephew, John Werner, will leave in a few days for a visit with relatives in Belington, W. Va. Early next month he will go to Washington, D. C., and Atlantic City, and on August 25 will sail on the Bluecher for Germany.

Engagement and July Wedding.

Miss Estelle Patterson and her sister, Miss Pearl Patterson of Southern avenue, Mt. Washington, entertained informally last night to announce the engagement of Miss Estelia Patterson and George Flanders, also of Mt. Washington. Miss Patterson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Patterson of Mansfield, O. The engagement will be followed by a wedding this month in the Methodist Episcopal church in Mt. Washington.

Home From Wedding Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. William James Patterson are expected home from their wedding trip today, and for a time will make their home with Mrs. Patterson's father, James Lyons, in Shady avenue. After their wedding, which was a quiet home event a couple of weeks ago, the bride and bridegroom went to Philadelphia and have spent the past few days in Atlantic City.

Thompson-Dibler.

Miss Nannie W. Thompson, a teacher in the Wilkinsburg schools, and A. Park Dibler, editor of the Turtle Creek Tribune, were married yesterday at the home of the Rev. Daniel N. Harnish, pastor of St. Paul's Reformed church in Butler.

In Their New Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwin Stitt are now at home in the Hartford apartments in Atwood street. Mrs. Stitt will be remembered as Miss Mary V. McKee, a daughter of Prof. James V. McKee of Sate college.

Notes of Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albert Fritz have concluded their wedding trip and will spend the Fourth in Pittsburgh before going to their new home in Downington, Pa. Mrs. Fritz was Miss Emma Genevieve Burhart before her marriage.

The Young Woman's Missionary society of the Oakmont Presbyterian church held a benefit luncheon yesterday at the home of Miss Emma Johnston in Oakmont.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph H. Behrenberg returned from their wedding trip a short time ago and are now at home in Rural avenue, East End. Mrs. Behrenberg was Miss Gertrude Devine Siedle.

Mrs. John Fremont Shafer of South Negley avenue will take a little party of freinds in her automobile tomorrow morning to join a house party which Miss Jeannette Agnew will entertain at her home near Canton, O., over the Fourth.

MR. TOBIN'S BLOOD CIRCULATED DEATH THROUGH HIS BODY.

Scrofulous Conditions Beyond Power of Physician to Check Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr. William Tobin, of No. 20 Smith's court, Newburyport, Mass., a well-known engineer, is very enthusiastic over the remarkable change which has occurred in his physical condition. "A few years ago," he says, "scrofula showed itself in the swelling of the glands of my neck and the disease gradually extended until my whole body was affected and I was covered with sores practically from head to foot; little watery puffs kept appearing, growing larger, and finally breaking and discharging a yellow fluid. After a while they would dry up in some places only to break out anew in other parts of my body.

"The physicians who attended me said I had scrofula in its worst form. Their treatment instead of arresting the spread of the disease only caused it to break out more extensively. After I had suffered in this way for four months, my misfortunes were increased by a severe attack of typhoid malaria. For some time I gave up all hope of recovery, but after five weeks the fever was checked and the doctors said the danger point was passed.

"I was still, however, affected as badly as ever with scrofula and it looked as if I never could get rid of that disease. A friend chanced to call on me one day and told me about the excellence of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood remedy. I became interested and bought a box and began to take three doses a day of two pills each until the first box was used up. Then I bought a second box and increased the dose to three pills. At the end of the second box I noticed that the old sores were healing some and that there were not so many fresh sores breaking out. I kept on using the pills until I had taken ten boxes, and then I was entirely cured. I have had no return of the disease since, and have not lost a day's work through sickness since I was cured by this wonderful medicine."

In cases of scrofula the blood becomes vitiated to such an extent that it is no longer able to build up the body. It carries to every part irritation and decay instead of renewal of life. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills relieve in two ways. They stimulate the digestion, which increases proper nourishment; and they introduce into the blood elements that purify and strengthen it. They are sold by all druggists.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT OF WEST PENN HOSPITAL

Capt. J. W. Kreps.

HAITIEN INCIDENT ENDS.

Action of Nation Satisfactory, So Far as France Is Concerned.

PARIS, July 1.—The Haitien incident has been satisfactorily adjusted, so far as France is concerned. The foreign office has received a dispatch from Port au Prince, saying that President Nord had made the most complete apology for the indignity shown the French minister. The Haitien government's action includes the punishment of those guilty of the outrage, a public apology and assurances of security for the future.

Foreign Minister Delcasse informed the council of ministers today that the president of Haiti had given a public audience to the French and German ministers and had publicly apologized. Although the action of France was independent of Germany throughout, each government appears to have taken similar measures.

WEST SCORES AGAIN.

Minneapolis and St. Paul Team Wins Chief Trophy in Big Whist Tournament.

NEW YORK, July 1.—With a clean score of four victories the last of which was won today, the team from Minneapolis and St. Paul, representing the Northwestern association, captured the fourteenth congress trophy, one of the big prizes in the tournament of the American whist league, now in progress here. This team defeated the team from the Havenswood Whist club of Chicago in the final round this afternoon by five tricks.

New officers were elected as follows: President George L. Bunn, St. Paul; vice president, J. E. Faber, New York; recording secretary, Henry T. Fry, Chicago; corresponding secretary, C. W. Vail, Brooklyn; treasurer, F. W. Thwaits, Milwaukee.

POISONOUS FIRECRACKERS.

Analyses of Their Contents Will Result in Criminal Suits.

Analyses were made yesterday by the city bacteriologist of the specimen firecrackers purchased by plain clothes officers, and which were offered for sale for the celebration of the Fourth of July. Informations were yesterday morning made against several dealers.

The analyses showed the following dealers to be selling crackers containing poisonous explosives: T. M. Schwartz, 1645 Fifth avenue, selling an "Uncle Sam cannon cracker" containing chlorate of potassium; F. Sarvine of 2159 Forbes street, selling a "whistling cannon cracker" containing the same constance; the Grier-Bush Company of 513 Liberty avenue, selling a potassium "hot shot cannon cracker," and L. Robbins of 2027 Penn avenue, selling a giant cracker of which the explosive was potassium.

Director Moore last night said that informations would be made against the offenders and that they would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Woman Fell from a Car.

Mrs. Mary Vowinckel of Sheraden was so seriously injured yesterday that she is lying in the Homeopathic hospital in a dying condition, as the result of falling from a Sheraden street car yesterday afternoon at Second avenue and Smithfield street. Mrs. Vowinckel left home for the purpose of meeting her husband, a broker, with offices at 331 Fourth avenue. As she started to leave the car she fell, and striking on her head, fractured her skull. She was reported last night as being in a serious condition. Her husband was notified and reached the hospital shortly after his wife's injury.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Off to Summer Homes.

All the preliminary arrangements are completed for the taking of children from the summer playgrounds to the country. The first instalment will go next week, the Pittsburgh children being taken to the Lillian home, while children from Allegheny will go to the Fresh Air home in Glenfield. A third party may be sent next week to the Fresh Air home in Sewickley. The kindergarten teachers and playground directors in the school and summer playgrounds are preparing lists of the children who are in need of the change of air, but the preliminary work is slow, as each child must be provided with a certificate showing that he has no contagious disease, while many other essential features of the arrangements must be attended to in advance.

Outdoor Plays This Afternoon.

Nothing more is needed now than pleasant weather to make the outdoor performance this afternoon for the benefit of the summer playgrounds a success. For several days the decorators and the stage manager have been working on the campus of the Pennsylvania College for Women, preparing the setting for the two plays which will be given there this afternoon under the direction of G. Stuart Brodock. The first will be "A Happy Pair," a one-act comedy, to be followed by a slightly longer play, "The Old Vermont Farm," a pretty rural comedy in four acts. The casts are composed of members of the Alvin Theater Dramatic school, who have already had some experience.

The members of the Travelers' club, which is sponsor for the entertainment, and their friends, are anticipating pleasant weather this afternoon, but should it rain at the time of the opening of the performance at 2:30 o'clock, the affair will be postponed until Monday afternoon, July 4.

Children Aid the Hospital.

Alice McNeill, Laura and Helen Krepp, Anna Hogg, Mary Booth and Virginia Keenan will give an operetta entitled "The Wonderful Doll of Ireland" in the Linden avenue schoolhouse in the Twenty-second ward at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the benefit of the Children's hospital in Forbes street near Craft avenue.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 1.—(Special.)—Last evening Prof. Frederic Starr, anthropologist of the University of Chicago, gave an interesting illustrated lecture on "A Glimpse at the Japanese."

Prof. Starr was sent to Japan by the committee of the St. Louis exposition. He spoke of the children, their training, their plays and their manner of living. His lecture was profusely illustrated with prettily colored pictures. Prof. Starr said President Roosevelt would be greatly delighted could he see the vast number of children in the streets, that even he would be satisfied could he see the seething humanity which crowds the streets so that the driver must always be on the closest watch lest he run down some of the little ones who play continuously in the streets.

Lighting Chautauqua signal fires around the lake was scheduled to take place at 9:30, but a heavy rain made it impossible to do so, much to the disappointment of all Chautauquans.

The devotional hour at 10 o'clock was conducted by Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., of Pittsburgh. He delivered a very interesting and helpful lecture on "Patience." An organ recital was given by Dr. Perry J. Starnes at 11 o'clock.

At 3 o'clock Prof. Starr gave a very interesting lecture on "Dress and Ornaments."

The rain for the past two days has been so continued that there is very little activity in Chautauqua. The attendance at the various lectures in the amphitheater has been small, as nearly everybody has been more than content to stay indoors.

DIAMONDS WORTH $5,000 ARE STOLEN FROM TRUNK

MT. CLEMENS, MICH., July 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Furst of New York City, who, with their daughter, are stopping at the Park hotel, were robbed of about $5,000 worth of diamonds. The diamonds were in a trunk in Mrs. Furst's room. The thief evidently had a key, as the trunk was relocked after the jewels had been taken.

RODE 1,000 MILES IN TANK TO SEE ATLANTIC OCEAN

Joseph Clark arrived in Pittsburgh last night from Kansas City, Kan., having made the entire trip in a locomotive tank which brought him to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station here. When arrested for trespass he explained that he wished to see the Atlantic ocean. Justice of the Peace W. F. Nicholson gave him 20 days in jail.

Hair-Food

Falling hair, thin hair, gray hair—starved hair. You can stop starvation with proper food. Then feed your starving hair with a hair-food—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It renews, refreshes, feeds, nourishes, restores color. Don't grow old too fast.

"I have tried two 'best ever sold' preparations, but Ayer's Hair Vigor beats them all for restoring the natural color to the hair, and it keeps my hair very soft and smooth."—Mrs. J. H. Marcrum, Sumner, Miss.

Cardinal Satolli at the Fair.

ST. LOUIS, July 1.—Cardinal Satolli made an official call at the national pavilions at the fair grounds today. He was accompanied by Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, and both wore their brilliant state regalia. They were escorted by a committee of which Adelbert Von Stibral, Austrian commissioner general to the fair, was chairman.

Burlington Route

It Costs No More to Go via St. Louis

If you make your western trip over the Burlington Route you have the privilege of stopping in the World's Fair city several days, and the further advantage of leaving it for the west over one route and returning via another. The service is excellent, and at present there are very low rates to Colorado, to the Black Hills, to California and to the Puget Sound country. To Yellowstone Park the rates are lower than ever before.

Let me send you booklets descriptive of these places. They are very interesting publications and will cost you nothing if you use the following coupon.

Immigration

During the past year many articles from correspondents of The Gazette in various parts of the world have called attention to the evils of the present immigration system. Authorities like J. D. Whelpley have visited the European sources of immigration and reported upon the methods there in vogue. Staff writers of The Gazette have watched the stream of humanity pouring in at Ellis island and passing through Pittsburgh by the trainload. The country is at last awake to the gigantic evils of the present system, and again The Gazette is to the fore with a plan to remedy it which has received the indorsement of George B. Cortelyou, as secretary of the department of commerce and labor, and will be presented to congress for adoption. This plan, which strikes at the root of the evil, will be made public for the first time by the originator, Broughton Brandenburg, in an exhaustive, specially illustrated article that will be printed tomorrow in

THE SUNDAY GAZETTE

There will be a score of other interesting features in The Gazette tomorrow, among them a series of photographs of "The Japanese Army Marching to the Yalu," "Crowding the Dead in Westminster Abbey," by Curtis Brown; "A Day in the Recruiting Station," by John P. Cowan; "The Life of Pathfinder Fremont," by Col. A. K. McClure; "Wireless Telegraphy at the World's Fair," by Martha L. Root; "The Gateway to the Southwest," by Charles M. Bregg; "Winston Churchill's New Novel," by George Seibel; "The Genial Idiot," by John Kendrick Bangs, and many more. And, of course, you want to see what happened on

NEW YORK TRACTION STOCKS DOMINATED THE MARKET

Strong Rally in All Issues, Followed by a Reaction. General Market Closed Firm—Good Bank Statement Foreshadowed.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market yesterday was dominated by the tractions, and from the fact that all issues were strong and higher, the street was inclined to believe that the movement meant something more than covering of shorts in Metropolitan. The latter opened at 111¼, and with but little reaction advanced 5 points to 116¼, closing at 114⅞, a net gain for the day of 3⅜ per cent. In the outside market Interborough stock was strong and higher, closing at 122½ bid, 123⅛ asked. Metropolitan Securities jumped 5 points to 84⅝. Brooklyn Rapid Transit gained nearly 1 per cent, selling at 49⅞, and Manhattan advanced 1⅛ per cent, selling at 150¼, and closing ½ per cent higher for the day. Of course, this movement had no connection with the iron trade, with general commercial conditions, or with the money market, and the natural inference is that it represented shorts covering in Metropolitan, or a deal which may include under one control all the traction lines of Greater New York. All the stories bearing upon the latter theory have met with emphatic denial, but financiers have a way of salving their consciences when the stock ticker anticipates large schemes.

There was some irregularity in the industrial list. Much interest was manifested to see how the market would take the passage of the dividend on American Car and Foundry common and the poor statement made by the company for the past fiscal year. The common opened unchanged at 39 and declined rapidly to 34⅜, but after that figure was reached pressure on the stock ceased and a rally carried the price back to 35¼. The preferred stock opened a small fraction lower at 91, rallied to 91½, and closed unchanged for the day at 91⅜. United States Steel preferred and the fund bonds were strong to firm all day and closed at a net gain of ⅝. Amalgamated Copper sold up to 69⅜ and closed at 69⅜, a loss of a small fraction. Consolidated Gas advanced a point at the opening to 156¾ on expectations of an increase in the quarterly dividend, but when the regular 2 per cent was declared the stock sold down to 192⅝ and closed at the decline. The weakness in this stock was responsible for the reaction in the general list during the late trading.

The railroad list remained in the dull and narrow groove it has occupied all week. Union and Southern Pacific gave another exhibition of the indifference of this group to actual news bearing upon values, both in the monthly traffic statements for the month of May. The gross earnings of Southern Pacific for the month were $7,008,720, an increase of $149,000, and the net earnings were $2,466,000, an increase of $77,695. Union Pacific reported an increase of $482,000 in gross and an increase of $337,000 in net for the month. Neither stock moved enough to call any broker's commission on a purchase and sale. Louisville & Nashville reported a decrease in net earnings for May of $3,914, and the stock advanced ⅛ of 1 per cent. The highest sale of Pennsylvania was 116 and the lowest 115⅝, and the fluctuations in St. Paul were confined to equally narrow limits. The general market did not close at the best, but there was a firm undertone. Considering the fact that there will be no market until next Tuesday morning, it is regarded as remarkable that there should have been so little selling to even up trades over the triple holiday.

Commodity markets were all lower and closed near the lowest, which indicates how little effect reports of crop damage influenced traders.

The first day of the semi-annual settlement period brought no change in money rates, which closed easy for call loans at 1½ per cent. The preliminary estimates of the movement of currency during the week indicated a net gain of $7,500,000 cash for the banks today. An expansion in loans is looked for, which may correspondingly increase deposits and reduce the surplus, but the actual cash reserves of the banks are likely to foot up the largest total ever reported.

The local stock market was a dull and listless affair. The report that the Crucible Steel Company had sold its Howe-Brown real estate for $750,000 had no effect upon the market for Crucible stocks. Ohio Fuel Supply rallied to 37¼ and Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined to 57½, closing at 57¾. Westinghouse Electric was unchanged at 77¾@78. Consolidated Gas 5s sold at 108¾, an advance of ⅜ per cent.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The steadiness of the stock market during the past week, in spite of the dullness and the impending triple holiday, has produced a more cheerful sentiment. It is likely that the hesitation will continue next week while the country is waiting to hear from the Democratic national convention, after which some of the cash being disbursed for interest and dividends will seek re-investment. After the close of the market yesterday a member of a large commission house expressed this opinion as to the future: "There is a good and improving market for investment, which up to date has been largely coupled with the new issues of bonds and notes. A change has been manifested this week and the basis of the very decided strength in certain stock issues has been the investment demand, the overflow from the bond market. This, of course, is largely due to the re-investment of interest disbursements made July 1 and it seems probable to us that after July 15 the bond market will flatten out considerably. By that time, however, we expect to see active trading in the stock market. The whole country and all its industries are marking time at present and waiting to see what is about to turn up, but there are few pessimists to be found who believe the country is going to be content to do that very long. There is nothing to disturb at the present time, except the presidential election and the outlook for the crops. The first is having less disturbing effect on business and prospects, and the outlook for the crops is most hopeful. Everything points to a bumper crop of corn and we are sure of a magnificent cotton crop. We see no reason, therefore, for the purchase of any of the standard stocks."

For the first five months of the calendar year—or fifteen January 22 and June 27—the deposits of the First National bank of Braddock increased $111,000. The total now foots up $640,000. James A. Russell is president and George C. Watt cashier.

An initial semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent was declared June 30, payable July 1, by the directors of the Federal Title and Trust Company of Beaver Falls. One thousand shares was also carried to the undivided profit account. The company opened for business in temporary quarters November 1 last and expects to occupy its new $50,000 three-story brick banking and office building about September 1.

The Central Savings and Trust Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable to stock of record June 30. This is an increase of ¼ per cent.

The Fifth Avenue bank has declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, payable on demand.

The Liberty National bank has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent, payable forthwith.

The Duquesne National bank has declared a quarterly dividend of 3 per cent, payable forthwith.

The Union Trust Company declared a quarterly dividend of 15 per cent, payable to stock of record June 29.

The Commercial National bank has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent.

Referring to the movement in the New York traction stocks yesterday a Wall street house wired Pittsburgh correspondent: "Continued rumors of a deal with Interborough, by which this latter company would take over the Interurban were circulated. Nothing definite could be ascertained, but it was understood that the political crowd has been out long of this stock and are bulling it as they bulled B. R. T. and Con. Gas."

According to the report of the American Pig Iron Storage Warrant Company as of June 29, there were in the yards of the company on that date 73,699 tons of pig iron of various grades.

Philadelphia Company new 5s were quoted at 99¾ bid, 99¾ asked in Philadelphia yesterday.

William M. Cooper has been elected manager of the real estate department of the Home Trust Company.

Delaware, Lackawanna & Western directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable July 20.

The Municipal and Corporation Securities Company of Pittsburgh has been awarded $140,000 30-year 5 per cent municipal improvement bonds, issued by the city of Cape May, N. J.

The regular 1¾ per cent quarterly dividend on American Car and Foundry preferred is payable August 1 to stock of record July 11. The dividend on the common stock was passed.

All the stock exchanges in the United States and the Chicago board of trade will remain closed today and Monday. The banks will be open today but will remain closed Monday. The New York bank statement will be issued at the usual hour today.

A factor in the current small dealings on the New York stock exchange is the crusade by the exchange authorities to prevent arbitrage operations between the board room and outside markets. This is an operation for making the profit of a difference in simultaneous prices in two markets by selling in one and buying in another. Only the most direct communication between the two markets makes it feasible, and such communication infringes the laws of the stock exchange. The summary removal of telephone communications of a number of firms from the floor of the stock exchange has been a commonition to the whole membership to refrain from this kind of trading. It is believed that this measure has cut off an appreciable proportion of the orders from the already meager market.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Peggy Gold Mining Company, owning the rich little patch of territory on Gold hill, Cripple Creek, is ready to start stopping from the bottom level at the depth of 370 feet, where all the veins have been opened and are showing rich ore. In the flat vein the ore is being broken seven feet and averages $90 a ton. The two north and south veins that parallel about 15 feet apart contain three feet of ore, the screenings of which will go around $70 to the ton. So far this year the company has paid $65,000 in dividends.

The work of installing the big plant of machinery on the Blue Bird mine on Bull hill is progressing rapidly, the foundations are almost completed. When the equipment is completed operations can be continued for years to come without installing additional machinery. It is in this mine that such quantities of gray copper are found, and the ore that has been opened will keep the management busy for years to come to break and ship. Spurs from the railroad to the ore and coal mines, so from now on the property can be run more economically than before.

The Gold Coin property, which was sold to W. M. Williams a short time ago, has a force of men at work and a large shipment of ore is now ready. The property is being worked through the Mogul tunnel, and a large tool and ore house is being constructed on the Mogul dump.

A shipment made from the Pittsburgh property of the Cashier Gold Mining and Reduction Company last week to the Chamberlain sampling works in Black Hawk gave values of 11.4 ounces in gold and 3.6 ounces silver and 10 per cent in copper, or values of over $300 to the ton, the wagon load shipment bringing a check of nearly $1,000 from the sampling works. Three ores were taken from the 900-foot east level of the Pittsburgh property and were taken out on company account.

There are some very peculiar features in connection with a mining suit now on trial at Pioche, Nev., involving the ownership of the Snowflake property near Fay. It is claimed by two parties, W. M. Johnson being the original locator and a man named Short the subsequent claimant. The peculiar feature is that each of the claimants has bonded the ground to G. Fray Smith, superintendent of the Horseshoe. The bond given by Mr. Johnson calls for $50,000 and that by Mr. Short for $70,000; hence Mr. Smith has a $40,000 interest in the termination of the suit.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Spokane Review: Local stockholders in the Jumbo mine at Buffalo Hump were considerably excited yesterday over a report of a big strike at the mine. The gossip was that in tunnel No. 4 at the 850-foot level the miners had encountered 7½ feet of ore that assayed better than $70 to the ton, with only one wall encountered.

The Metal Market.

IG APARTMENTS FOR EAST END

Site at Rebecca and Baum Streets Is Purchased for $20,000.

A large apartment house for the Twentieth ward will be the outcome of a deal made yesterday by the Land Title and Trust Company. For Joseph L. Dennison of Jamestown, Pa., the company sold to a prominent local builder an L-shaped property on the east side of Rebecca street for $20,000. The plot is in two parcels, one having a frontage of 90 feet in Rebecca street, with a depth of 150 feet, and the other 46x130 feet, facing in Baum street. Between the lots and at the northeast corner of the two streets is the $4,000 stone residence of C. McDowell. Vista alley, 20 feet wide, runs along the rear of the lots, affording a good rear entrance and making the site comply with every way with the new apartment house law. The property is directly across Baum street from the First Methodist Protestant church and near the properties of J. H. Kohne, G. F. Sacrep, M. E. Purviance, A. C. Kimbell, E. E. Seliger and Dr. C. Himmelling. Its location, one square from the Liberty avenue car line, makes it easily accessible and the distance to the heart of the city is only 20 minutes' ride. The buyer is backing the proposition for three apartment houses, two to face in Rebecca street and the other in Baum street, these buildings will be three stories high and cover practically the whole lot. They will be divided into flats of four rooms each, which in this locality will easily rent for from $30 to $40 a month. The apartments will cost $70,000 and will be the only buildings of the kind in the block long. The two-story flats being at Graham street and Center avenue.

Swissvale Frontage in the Deal.

The Union Realty Company has closed the sale of the William R. Patterson property at the southwest corner of Liberty and Winebiddle avenues Twentieth ward, which was published in The Gazette-Times weeks ago. The property, which was bought by Charles Loose, the Swissvale realty operator, consists of a new 16-room center hall brick house on lot 84x120 feet. It was put into the deal at $31,000. Mr. Patterson took as part payment the two brick and stone dwellings on lot 20x110 feet each, on the north side of Braddock avenue, near Rossiyn street, Swissvale. The latter property was valued at $21,000, the difference being paid in cash. The Swissvale lots will be improved at once with eight-room brick houses.

Through the agency of H. O. Hornberger & Son H. Sweeny has sold to J. M. Marshall nine brick houses of six rooms each, at the southwest corner of Blair and Tecumseh streets, Twenty-third ward, for $17,500. The houses are built on a plot 57x130 feet and are well rented.

Harriman, Schauer & Co. have sold for Henry Harriman to Mrs. A. S. Matheson of New York a 10-room brick house on lot 90x102 feet, in North Pearl street, Twentieth ward, for $13,000.

Anxious for the Extension.

Residents of lower Allegheny are anxiously awaiting the extension of the street car line from West View to Bellevue, which has been promised. The line is now running to the Penwitter farm settlement near which the Allegheny-Bellevue Land Company has exercising for a lease one mile long. Both this property and much of the property lying inside the proposed loop is in great favor with Allegheny home seekers. With the proposed extension many who are employed in the mills in lower Allegheny could make the trip by way of Bellevue easily. Property now for sale on both this and Avalon bridge to Federal street and thence out by way of Perrysville avenue. A number of large house building operations are contemplated on this improvement and when through the district directly affected may be expected to build up rapidly with good houses.

Architect J. Lewis Beatty has awarded the contract to Kerr & Fox for the hospital to be erected by the United Presbyterian Women's association at Penn and Trenton avenues, Wilkinsburg, where the Association Home for the Aged is. The general contract calls for an expenditure of $100,000, but the building, with its equipment, will cost $156,000. The main building will face 103 feet in Penn avenue and will be 150 feet long. The power house in the rear will be 40x80 feet. The main building and wings will be three stories high, the second and third stories being planned for private rooms. The first floor will be large wards, with solariums. The association is also planning to build an addition to the Home for the Aged to accommodate 40 more inmates.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has purchased from E. B. Alsop 768 of an acre in the Twentieth ward for $10,000. The property adjoins the Alsop and Childs holdings and has a long railroad frontage.

William Veile has sold to James Parker No. 297 Main street, Seventeenth ward, a large brick house on lot 50x100 feet, for $12,000.

Through James A. Cooper & Co. M. Sides has conveyed to T. M. Dickson of Washington, Pa., a nine-room brick house on lot 25x100 feet in Island avenue, McKees Rocks, for $7,000. In part payment Mr. Sides received a farm of 110 acres in Scalp Level township, Cambria county, valued at $6,000.

George A. Topper has sold for John B. Scarlett of Newark, N. J., to De La Smith 119 lots 40x110 feet each in the Third ward of West Elizabeth for $8,500. The buyer will at once start the erection of 100 houses to cost $150,000.

The Clean Towel Supply Company will erect a $20,000 building on a lot 28x100 feet in Fulton street, near Center avenue, which it bought recently from the Loughlin estate for $5,500.

W. L. Scott & Co. have leased for Frank McCann to L. C. Bright the three-story brick building at 120 Federal street, Allegheny, for a period of three years at $2,500 per year. The building is 20x100 feet in dimensions and is occupied by the Federal Arcade.

BETTER OUTLOOK FOR INDUSTRIES

Bradstreet and Dun Both See Improvement Coming in the Business World.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Although the new fiscal year opens with an extended holiday there is much encouragement in the evidences of returning confidence, and statistics for the past six months indicate that there is no little reason for anticipating brighter things in the near future. For the half-yearly returns of insolvencies show that liabilities have steadily decreased. Railway earnings, that in earlier months showed losses of 5 per cent or more in comparison with last year, exhibit an increase of 2.6 per cent for June. Reports from leading branches of trade for the last week testify to a quiet condition, but scarcely more so than is customary at this time of the year, while the inquiries in several manufacturing lines promise a better distribution in the near future. Some important discussions over wage scales have reached amicable settlement, and with the protracted plove manufacturers' strike declared off, the local garment workers' trouble is the most serious. Prospects are still favorable for large returns on the farms, and the same thing is true of the iron and steel industry, although as yet there is little support to the shape of increased business, but the number of inquiries in sight and contemplated work held back is sufficient to provide a good tonnage when ever it is decided that the time has come to place contracts. It is hoped that the coal dence next week will be productive of good results, although there is a wide difference of opinion regarding the advisability of reducing quotations.

One reason for the better feeling may be found in the satisfactory arrangement of wage scales and other labor matters. Fuel is less active because of the idleness in manufacturing, but anthracite carries are still producing coal, and the usual monthly advance in price became effective July 1.

Failures this week in the United States are 249, against 257 last week, 207 the preceding week and 212 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 31, against 32 last week, 16 the preceding week and seven last year.

Bradstreets tomorrow will say:

Stock demand and over-production in some lines have spurred American manufacturers to seek a foreign outlet. Detailed foreign trade figures for May show that from 1903 makers have found it possible to export more liberally, and manufactures generally are moving abroad so much better as to indicate that the present year will see the largest exports of manufactured goods in the country's history.

VACATIONS AFFECT MERCANTILE TRADE

Butter Is Moving Much More Freely—Firmer Potato Market Coming.

Commercial markets are now being more or less affected by the advent of the vacation season. The temporary absence of thousands of people, usually on and for July 1, causes a falling off in demand for both necessaries and luxuries. The retailers have felt the depression already and the wholesalers are beginning to feel it.

Demand keeps up well for cheese of all kinds; the butter supply has increased a great deal this week and dealers are storing on account of the receipts being so much in excess of requirements. Eggs hold firm and supply is ruling at all liberal; no changes reported in groceries, while there is an easier feeling on poultry. A firmer market is looked for on potatoes next week. Arrivals yesterday were 9 cars, making a total of 87 in the yards. The tomato market is in much better condition than last week, arrivals have been light several days. Melons are just now attracting considerable attention. There were 27 cars of cantaloupes and over 20 cars of watermelons in the yards, demand keeps good and the stock seems to be moving satisfactorily. One car of peaches came in, making a total of 14 on track; three cars of oranges arrived and 4 stock sold off the car. Cabbage is looking firmer, receipts being but two cars again yesterday. Bananas are coming in at about the proper rate to suit trade. Fancy raspberries are commanding good prices.

Straw is scarce at present and very little is offering here; No. 2 white oats offered yesterday at 40@c and 47c; No. 1 timothy hay offered at $14; this is declined to be sufficient to the part and apparently but little is wanted on account of the way prices are holding up.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania, 18 cars hay, 7 cars oats, 2 cars corn and oats, 1 car hay and straw, 1 car corn; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 2 cars hay, 3 cars oats; Baltimore & Ohio, 4 cars oats, 2 car oats.

Dealers charge an advance of 5 cents a bushel and $3 a ton on hay and millfeed from warehouses in less than carload lots.

COMPTROLLER OBJECTS.

Says New York Schools Are Wasting Time and Money in Manual Training.

NEW YORK, July 1.—(Special.)—Comptroller Grout's special investigation of the schools was presented in report form to the board of estimate today. According to his reports the city is running wild, more than $268,000 having been spent in manual work by the board of education, of which $100,000 was expended for sewing and $152,000 for drawing and constructive work. The comptroller writes:

"Most of this constructive work in the schools has no connection with anything else. It is simply an aimless making of articles which have no possible use. In the present stage of development the greater part of such work in the regular classrooms is so unreal and makes so little demand for thought that its educative value does not entitle it to a place in the schools. It is a waste of time and material. This does not apply to the part of the work which is carried on in the shops, where conditions are more favorable and results more satisfactory."

Looks Like Northeast Extension to the Old Fairview District

Possibly one of the most important discoveries of late in the lower southwest fields is a probable northeast extension to the old Fairview district in Marion county, W. Va. It is fifth sand territory and has been operated for several years. What now gives rise to the opinion that an extension has been discovered is the showing made by the two wells drilled in on the Isaac Ammons farm and owned by Treat & Crawford and J. H. McDermott. The first was drilled into the fifth sand a few weeks ago and since then has been making occasional flows. The well has not been shot, but is conservatively estimated to be good for 25 barrels a day or better. No 2 on the same farm has just been drilled into the fifth sand and is reported showing for a 100-barrel producer. Past efforts to extend the producing area of the fifth sand development have not been very gratifying and it is hoped that the right direction has now been discovered.

Near Mooreville, Monongalia county, the Hope Natural Gas Company and J. H. McDermott have completed their test on the Tennant farm and have a fair gasser in the fifth sand.

In the Pine Grove extension, in Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the M. E. Greathouse farm into the pay and the hole has filled up 2,000 feet with fluid. In the same district the same company got the pay at 17 feet in the Gray at its No 6 on the A. T. Morris farm and the well produced 52 barrels the first 24 hours.

In the Smithfield district, Carnahan & Smith have put their test on the L. F. Cain farm to pumping from the Dunkard sand and it is producing three barrels a day. This well was dry in the lower sand.

Near Sedalia, Doddridge county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled its test on the J. T. Shields farm into the Gordon and has a fair gasser. In the Wallace district, Harrison county, the Wallace Oil and Gas Company has completed and shot its second test on the Ira Talkington farm and has a 10-barrel pumper in the Gordon.

In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the South Penn company has completed its second test on the B. F. Barnhart farm and has a 50-barrel producer in the Gordon. South of Mannington, Marion county, the same company has completed a test on the F. A. Martin farm and has a gasser.

[illegible] of the Camden-Sommers farm, in the Meathouse district, Calhoun county, the Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the E. S. Gardner farm whose sand was found [illegible] pay. The well produced 100 barrels [illegible] 11 hours after it was drilled into the [illegible] sand.

In the same district the Cresco Oil and Gas Company has completed its second test on the Shellman farm and has a 75-barrel producer. Upham, Ralston & Co. have completed their No. 1 Manning farm well and have a 15-barrel producer. The Guarantee Oil Company completed its test on the P. S. Cox farm as a show for a 75-barrel producer. All the wells got their production in the Berea [illegible].

In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, the Clarksville Oil and Gas Company has completed its No. 1 on the S. P. McFee farm [illegible] at a depth of 1,490 feet and has a very light show of oil. It is expected that it will make a paying [illegible].

In the McFarlan-Murphy district, Ritchie county, the Cairo Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the T. E. Davis farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the salt sand. In the Cove Run district, Morgan county, the Logan Oil Company has completed its No. 1 on the Jacob Young farm and has a duster in the second Cow Run and salt sands. On Island in the Ohio river, below Marietta, the Anderson Oil Company has completed its test on the Drake farm and has a show for a barrel pumper in the Cow Run sand.

In the Cherokee Hill district, Morgan county, the Koester & Co. have completed their No. 1 on the John Ellis farm and have a show for a barrel pumper. Maines & Co. have completed their test on the W. S. Smith farm and have a duster. The same parties are drilling and test on the same farm. Danner & Co. are also drilling their No. 14 on the Vernell farm.

In the Matamoras district, Washington county, the Oil Company has drilled its test on the Kirkbride farm through the Big Injun sand and has a duster.

In the Crites district, J. B. Nutting completed his No. 3 on the Cisler-Ramage farm and has a show for a 25-barrel producer. Newman has completed his No. 15 on the [illegible] and M. B. Wagner farm and has a [illegible].

AGREEMENT SATISFACTORY.

Independent Sheet and Tin Manufacturers Will Sign New Scale.

The Independent manufacturers of sheet and tin plate held a short conference with the officials of the Amalgamated association yesterday and agreed to accept the scale as arranged with the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company. This is on the basis of the wages now being paid, which is 16 per cent less than the scale agreed upon last year.

The association is having the new scale printed and a copy will be forwarded to every manufacturer operating a sheet or tin plate plant. The rebate committee of the association met the officials of the American company yesterday afternoon to arrange plans for a joint conference, but nothing definite was completed.

The iron scale remains unsettled, but an agreement is expected when the board of conciliation meets with the iron wage committee of the Amalgamated association. It is the intention of the Republic Iron and Steel Company and other concerns operating union mills may continue under the old agreement.

NATTIE W. M'LEAN TAKES AN APPEAL

J. B. BOSWELL'S WILL FILED

The J. G. Brown estate has finally reached the supreme court. Miss Nattie W. McLean yesterday took an appeal to the higher court from the decision of Judge Hawkins, who refused to award her a one-half interest in 88 shares of Colonial stock held in Mr. Brown's name.

John Margita was placed on trial before Judge Frazer, charged with voluntary manslaughter. On April 2 Mrs. Catherine Tajnay was burned by an overturned lamp at 17 Irwin street, from the effects of which she died. It was alleged Margita had a dispute with Joseph Tajnay and thrust his fists through a window, upsetting the lamp. As there was no evidence to prove guilt, Judge Frazer instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty, which it did without leaving the box. An indictment for murder was then nolle prossed.

Two murder cases will be tried in criminal court next week that of Harry and Louis American, charged with the death of Otto E. Vail, with David Ross, colored, as an accessory after the fact, and Martin Stoutz, charged with shooting Mr. Brother Joseph.

Judge Acheson, in the United States circuit court, handed down an opinion in the cases between James W. Arrott, Jr., and the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company. The dispute was over a decision used in enameling bath tubs, etc. The court finds that it is Arrott's patent and ordered a decree in his favor.

Mrs. Sarah E. McCloy filed a paper she had labeled "Acceptions" in the prothonotary's office. It was a rambling statement of objections to different items in the account filed in Bidwell's trust and denials of ever having employed certain attorneys.

Ivers & Tucker have entered suit against Amy M. Du Puy to recover $20,000 damages alleged to have been incurred by the plaintiffs, who were tenants in the Hamilton building in Fifth avenue, by the change of that building into a hotel.

The following executions were issued: James Mayer et al. vs. George E. Fox, $755; same vs. John L. Wolf, $145; S. H. Lloyd vs. Rebecca M. Barton, $158.32; N. M. Fuhrman vs. C. H. Stuckman, $387.25.

On a motion presented by the plaintiff, common pleas court No. 1 has ordered a discontinuance of the equity suit brought by William P. De Armit against the Keystone Car Wheel Company and the National Car Wheel Company to prevent the merger of the two companies.

Margaret Ewing has entered a libel in divorce against Omer J. Ewing, charging desertion.

The will of Joseph B. Boswell, late of Bellevue, disposes of an estate consisting of $56,000 personal and $6,000 real. The entire estate is left to his widow, Emma F., with the provision that she pay $200 to a son of the deceased, Howard F. The devise is conditioned that she remain a widow, and upon her marrying the estate is to go to his three daughters, Florence A., Helen B. and Jean S. in equal shares.

A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Stanley McCluskie, a merchant of McKees Rocks, by creditors whose claims aggregate $650.05.

After sitting for almost four weeks and disposing of over 500 cases, the grand jury yesterday was given a recess until July 15, all its work being finished until that time. The true bills it returned yesterday were as follows: Perjury, Mary Barrett, Margaret Dutz, Sarah Datz, Mollie Datz; larceny from the person, William Cheloney, Frank Rockos; assault and battery, Charles McDonald, Samuel L. Scott, pointing firearms, Peter Sheridan.

At a session of juvenile court yesterday Judge Elliott Rogers took occasion to lecture the parents of Harry Patton, before the court on a charge of larceny. The boys were given to the care of their grandmother during vacation. The court asked the father about the charges against him, and the father replied that he did that a great deal. The court then told him that a little of this was necessary in the raising of a boy, but that a constant course of it was something of first-class substitute. He advised a little less thrashing in the future.

TO PREVENT DISASTERS.

Prohibition of Cast Iron Columns in High Buildings Is Urged in New York.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The New York Tribune this morning says:

"It is now four months since the fatal collapse of the Darlington hotel awakened New York and the whole country to the dangers attending the use of cast-iron columns in high buildings, but so far no action has been taken by the city authorities on the recommendation of Superintendent Hopper that cast iron be restricted to buildings of not more than 75 feet in height.

"A special correspondent has canvassed a number of prominent architects, engineers and builders in New York in connection with this question, and finds entire unanimity as to the propriety of prohibiting the use of cast-iron columns in any but low and simple structures, and the regulation of the matter by ordinance has been strenuously urged by individuals and in public meetings. Indeed, so serious was the impression made by the Darlington disaster that in several specific cases architects and owners have changed the specifications for buildings recently started by substituting steel columns for the cast iron originally planned. It seems strange that the city authorities have not taken similar action in safeguarding the building interests of those who cannot employ the most experienced architects by amending the building code so as to limit the use of cast columns to buildings less than 75 feet high. Section 105 has been in force for a year with a view to eliminating combustible materials from the more important structures, but further precautions should be taken to insure also their strength and stability. Can it be that still more disasters like the General Slocum holocaust, the Lackawanna pier fire or the Darlington collapse will be needed before human safety is adequately insured?"

VETERANS OF 1812 DRAW NO PENSIONS

Only Widows of That Struggle Get Money Here—Annual Report of Local Agency.

For the first time in many years the annual report of the Pittsburgh pension agency, which was completed yesterday, gives no account of survivors of the conflict of 1812, although pensions were granted during the year to 21 widows of that conflict. The report includes but one survivor of the Indian wars and a total of five widow-survivors of the frontier struggles. Forty-nine Mexican veterans drew pensions this year against 60 last year.

The total number added to the rolls during the fiscal year was 1,600; losses by death were, 1,809; by marriage, 42; by failure to claim, 29; by other causes, 38, making a total of 1,918 lost and a total number of 47,471 pensioners now on the books. The total amount disbursed during the year amounted to $6,461,815.37, which is about the same as one year ago. Among the number added to the rolls were 200 Spanish war veterans.

The Pittsburgh agency is in charge of Maj. J. W. Nesbit and includes Pennsylvania territory west of the Susquehanna river. The other pension agency for this state is at Philadelphia. Disbursements from the local office cover army service only.

"I have no more nervous headaches and rest very well at night."

When a woman suffers from female weakness and irregularity or other forms of womanly disease, the effect is certain to be marked in her nervous system, the general effect being, as in Mrs. Woodin's case, "nervous headaches, restlessness at night" and a run-down condition. It is simply common sense then which says if you cure the female weakness, irregularity, etc., you will cure the nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, etc., by curing the womanly diseases which cause these ailments.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I feel more than grateful to you for the benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Erva R. Woodin, of Millerton, Dutchess Co., N. Y., care of Box No. 1. "For a number of years I had been troubled with female weakness, nervous headache, irregularity, restlessness at night, and, in fact was all run-down, but after taking three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' feel that I am entirely cured. I have no more nervous headaches, and rest very well at night; in fact, feel like a different person. Thanks to your kind advice and wonderful medicine. I earnestly advise all who suffer from any similar troubles to write to Dr. Pierce at once. They will not regret it."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

"Meet Me at the Inside Inn"

Never Before Did a Great World's Fair Have a Big Hotel Inside the Grounds.

Rates Within the Means of All.

"Meet me at the Inside Inn." That will be the expression most frequently heard at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. This hotel is an immense structure, 400 feet wide and 800 feet long, with 2,500 sleeping rooms, and a dining room seating 2,500 persons. The hotel is inside the Exposition grounds, and operated under the supervision of the Exposition management. It is well appointed and furnished in modern, up-to-date style, and will be the center of social affairs in the way of dinners and family reunions inside the grounds.

This hotel is in the southeast portion of the grounds, not far from the Plateau of States, and to the north a short distance are the famous Cascade Gardens, Festival Hall and Colonnade of States, which form a part of the main picture of the Exposition. Street railways running by the door go direct to the Union Railway Station downtown, and the intramural road, inside the grounds, carries guests from the hotel entrance to all points of interest. Here is a cool retreat, where persons can find rest, enjoyment, and quietude away from the noise and rush of the crowds along the avenues of the Exposition grounds. Sightseeing at a large exposition is the most tiresome pleasure, because the mind is busily engaged and finds diversion by constantly changing scenes, while the body is becoming weary and the visitor does not realize how tired he is until he stops to rest. The place to rest is the Inside Inn. The hotel rates cover the daily admission fee to the grounds, and the registered guest at this hotel is free from the annoyance of pushing through the crowds at the gates. There are 500 rooms at $1.00 per person, 1,000 at $2.00, 500 at $2.50, etc.

The Inside Inn will long be remembered as a distinctive feature of the largest Universal Fair ever held in the world—a Fair representing a total cost of $53,000,000, and as large in size as the Columbian, the Pan-American and the Paris Fairs combined.

PATRIOTIC SERMONS IN MANY CHURCHES SUNDAY

The First Hungarian Reformed House of Worship to Be Dedicated.

Patriotic sermons are announced for many pulpits in the two cities tomorrow. In many cases special invitations have been tendered G. A. R. veterans to attend these services. Special music and exercises have also been arranged to commemorate Independence Day.

Members of the First Hungarian Reformed church will dedicate their new building in Johnston avenue tomorrow with morning, afternoon and evening services, at which many visiting clergymen will speak.

The new pipe organ recently installed in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Adams street, Allegheny, will be dedicated tomorrow morning. The pastor, the Rev. A. R. Kuttdell, will conduct the services in German. In the evening an organ recital will be given and the Rev. H. J. Schuh will deliver an address in German.

The reopening of the Union Methodist Episcopal church, Pennsylvania avenue and Manhattan street, Allegheny, will be celebrated tomorrow with special services. The pastor, the Rev. D. L. Johnson, will officiate, assisted by the Revs. Dr. F. H. Wooding of Johnstown and the Rev. Dr. J. J. McIlvar of New Kensington, and several former pastors.

The Rev. Austin W. Mann will address members of St. Margaret's Deaf Mute Mission in the assembly room of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, at 11 and 3 o'clock tomorrow.

Farewell services in the old Second Presbyterian church, Penn avenue and Seventh street, will be conducted tomorrow. The building has been occupied for 44 years. The congregation will take a vacation until September 1, when services will be held in the Bijou theater until the completion of the new church.

The First Baptist church, Crafton, will welcome its new pastor, the Rev. A. B. Bowser, recently called from Millville, N. J., tomorrow.

Cleveland Time Shortened.

CRAWFISH DAMAGE LARGE AT M'KEESPORT RESERVOIR

McKeesport has had a large mess of crawfish, but it has been a costly experience. The city reservoir has leaked and although patched up, the work was unsatisfactory. Last week the contractors discovered that portions of it had been rendered porous by little tunnels. In these were found crawfish dead and alive. Cement will prevent a repetition of the tunneling, but it will cost the city about $5,000.
